[12/30/2003 1:00:02 PM] [Kavika] re: SIM, steel stocks have been hot, very, so yesterday I saw that SIM was up big and was a steel I'd never heard of. I took a chance, noting it had low volume and zero messages on the dastardly Yahoo boards, thus, an unknown issue. Today I just got nervous with that parabolic rise, so sold.

Now watch, to the moon.

[12/30/2003 8:40:40 PM] [w2jc] bobpan... which file are you trying to get ? the pdf or the xls?

[12/30/2003 8:48:32 PM] [bobpan] the xls file. I was finally able to save the PDF file to documents. However, when I click on the xls file i get the microsoft closing down message.

[12/30/2003 8:49:43 PM] [w2jc] bobpan ... maybe your browser doesn't know what to do with an Excel spreadsheet?

[12/30/2003 9:10:18 PM] [w2jc] yw bob... you dont need the xls unless you are going to play with sorting different columns, etc.

[12/30/2003 9:13:55 PM] [Investortrader] Anyone know another way to save the PDF file other than FILE/SAVE? For some reason SAVE is greyed out and can't be clicked

[12/30/2003 9:14:24 PM] [RJMGroup] Is there a File, Save As?

[12/30/2003 9:14:59 PM] [Investortrader] That's also greyed out

[12/30/2003 9:15:20 PM] [RJMGroup] Which PDF are we talking about? I'll check.

[12/30/2003 9:15:23 PM] [Investortrader] I even tried e-mailing it as an attachement, and that was greyed out too, couldn't save or even open it

[12/30/2003 9:15:38 PM] [Steven57] are you looking at it with Adobe?

[12/30/2003 9:15:49 PM] [Odyssey] IT, can you open the file in AdodeReader? if you can you should be able to save from reader

[12/30/2003 9:15:50 PM] [Investortrader] The Hotto list of stock picks and targets

[12/30/2003 9:16:06 PM] [Investortrader] Adobe Acrobat reader

[12/30/2003 9:16:26 PM] [Investortrader] Yes Odyssey, I have it opened, just can't find a way to save it

[12/30/2003 9:16:38 PM] [w2jc] i see what you mean IT .. same here ... my first reaction is it must be something that the Worden server does to files saved in the clubs ...

[12/30/2003 9:17:16 PM] [Steven57] I have a save button and it works on the file

[12/30/2003 9:17:38 PM] [Odyssey] IT, do have a "floppy disk" icon on the menu bar for Reader, if so klik that.

[12/30/2003 9:17:40 PM] [bobpan] Yet, mine saved just fine

[12/30/2003 9:17:42 PM] [Optomistic] I was able to print and then save it.

[12/30/2003 9:17:54 PM] [w2jc] OH... i know wha tthe problem is

[12/30/2003 9:18:17 PM] [Steven57] when I opened it, it was in a new explorer window, but couls save

[12/30/2003 9:18:26 PM] [RJMGroup] IT, are you using Adobe Acrobat Reader 6.0?

[12/30/2003 9:18:27 PM] [w2jc] IT .. in your browser window... just above the PDF display window, there are other tool bars... click the little disk upper left of that

[12/30/2003 9:18:33 PM] [Investortrader] No floppy disk icon

[12/30/2003 9:18:42 PM] [RJMGroup] IT, it says Save a Copy in the upper left?

[12/30/2003 9:18:59 PM] [Steven57] File save works too

[12/30/2003 9:19:16 PM] [RJMGroup] You don't use Internet Explorer's File, Save. You use Adobe Acrobat's.

[12/30/2003 9:19:38 PM] [Investortrader] No little disk, is it to the left of the printer icon?

[12/30/2003 9:19:43 PM] [Steven57] works either way with me, just born lucky

[12/30/2003 9:27:05 PM] [Odyssey] IT ... Reader should work on almost any system running win98se or better

[12/30/2003 9:27:16 PM] [Investortrader] I don't think I trade enough to go with TradeStation to overcome the $99/month, plus it's not cheaper if you buy multiple thousand share lots is it?

[12/30/2003 9:27:30 PM] [Investortrader] Whew, that's what I run, Win98SE

[12/30/2003 9:27:49 PM] [RJMGroup] You only need 32MB RAM for 6.0 but 64MB RAM is recommended.

[12/30/2003 9:28:08 PM] [RJMGroup] TradeStation is the creme of the crop though. I use IB.

[12/30/2003 9:28:16 PM] [Odyssey] I've got AdobeReader5 on a Win98 macine with only 64meg of RAM... no problem

[12/30/2003 9:28:46 PM] [RJMGroup] I took that from the system requirements on Adobe's website.

[12/30/2003 9:29:00 PM] [Investortrader] I got it! Thru yahoo e-mail :)

[12/30/2003 9:29:21 PM] [RJMGroup] Still would be a good idea to upgrade. I assume you're using broadband. It'll only take a few minutes.

[12/30/2003 9:31:50 PM] [RJMGroup] I actually moved into my apartment in 1998 to be one of the first with Internet cable in NJ. :)
[12/30/2003 9:31:54 PM] [Investortrader] It seems to work ok, I can put in orders (or cancel them) in just a couple of seconds

[12/30/2003 9:32:15 PM] [lavenderangel] IT, trade stations costs $1.00 per 100 shares up to 500 shares then .60/100 shares after that. so buying 2000 shares costs 14.00
[12/30/2003 9:32:20 PM] [Investortrader] LOL RJM

[12/30/2003 9:32:43 PM] [RJMGroup] But I buy 5,000 - 10,000 shares sometimes so IB is more expensive than the regular brokers.
[12/30/2003 9:33:09 PM] [RJMGroup] TradeStation is also slightly more expensive than IB but I like TS's software.
[12/30/2003 9:33:43 PM] [Investortrader] Thanks lavenderangel ... Brown is $10 for up to 5000 shares, so I wouldn't be able to recoup the $99/month except on stocks I buy only 500 or 1000 shares on, I use schwab for that generally which is $15 for me
[12/30/2003 9:34:14 PM] [lavenderangel] ok
[12/30/2003 9:34:15 PM] [RJMGroup] Yeah, for low share trades it's not as good but some brokers don't fill the same as TradeStation and IB do.
[12/30/2003 9:34:33 PM] [RJMGroup] Most regular brokers dont go directly to the ECN.
[12/30/2003 9:34:44 PM] [lavenderangel] i get charged 10.99 each way so i could easily make it up. no matter the share count
[12/30/2003 9:35:05 PM] [lavenderangel] and alot of mine are 300 to 500 with 1k here and there
[12/30/2003 9:35:07 PM] [RJMGroup] Well, at some point shares will outweigh 10.99.
[12/30/2003 9:35:29 PM] [RJMGroup] I sometimes buy 10,000 shares of a penny stock. That's not $10.99. :)

ClubHome

[12/30/2003 9:36:14 PM] [RJMGroup] A trade like that is over $50 on IB and even more on TS.

[12/30/2003 9:36:23 PM] [Investortrader] I can't route my orders, but I do see level II and schwab sometimes fills me at below bid (not often at all, only a few times in 15 years with them), generally when I am best bid I get filled on it next trade

[12/30/2003 9:37:01 PM] [RJMGroup] Yeah, you have to decide based on your trading style. I tried to get TS to waive the monthly fee but they said only if I do huge trade volume.

[12/30/2003 9:37:19 PM] [RJMGroup] I love TS's software though. It might be worth $99 the way TCNet is.

[12/30/2003 9:37:24 PM] [Investortrader] Anyone use Cybertrader?

[12/30/2003 9:37:45 PM] [lavenderangel] i'll need to do a cost analysis study to see if it would save me or not. but some of the tools sound really incredible.

[12/30/2003 9:37:53 PM] [RJMGroup] Nope. Then there's the other extreme of www.freetrades.com. I recommend that for investors; not traders.

[12/30/2003 9:38:03 PM] [lavenderangel] why is that/

[12/30/2003 9:38:10 PM] [RJMGroup] Plus they have tons of classes on their software.

[12/30/2003 9:38:18 PM] [RJMGroup] Ameritrade with FREE commission trades.

[12/30/2003 9:38:24 PM] [Investortrader] Lavender, do you use market orders a lot or mostly all limit orders?

[12/30/2003 9:38:40 PM] [lavenderangel] almost all limit orders. i hate market orders

[12/30/2003 9:38:45 PM] [RJMGroup] The only good trade is a limit order trade. A market order trade is for novices.

[12/30/2003 9:39:06 PM] [Investortrader] Ok, because Brown charges $5 for market and $10 for limit, up to 5000 shares

[12/30/2003 9:39:27 PM] [RJMGroup] It's worth it if you get filled poorly. It's the same in IB and TS no matter what.

[12/30/2003 9:39:27 PM] [lavenderangel] limit buys and stop limits for sells if i really feel i must put a stop in.

[12/30/2003 9:39:37 PM] [Investortrader] RJM, I'll use market if I want to get in, and it's highly liquid, and there are plenty of shares at the ask, and the spread is a penny

[12/30/2003 9:39:49 PM] [lavenderangel] ameritrade/datek used to charge a difference but no more. it's the same

[12/30/2003 9:39:55 PM] [RJMGroup] I never will. I'll always use a limit order just in case since it costs me no more.

[12/30/2003 9:40:47 PM] [Investortrader] Same cost may as well ... I have used a limit order at the ask price before in schwab since it's the same

[12/30/2003 9:40:58 PM] [Investortrader] Same cost

[12/30/2003 9:41:03 PM] [lavenderangel] have a question. if a filled in candle engulfs the previous candle. is that bearish or bullish? i think bearish. is that right?

[12/30/2003 9:41:09 PM] [RJMGroup] A limit order is insurance where a market order could get caught at just the wrong moment.

[12/30/2003 9:41:40 PM] [Investortrader] Bearish I thikn lavender, you mean open higher and close lower than previous days high and low?

[12/30/2003 9:41:40 PM] [RJMGroup] Depends on more than that. But in general it's a bearish engulfing candle.

[12/30/2003 9:42:06 PM] [lavenderangel] look at CHINA if you have a moment.

[12/30/2003 9:42:10 PM] [RJMGroup] Stochastics come into play. Is it trending up when it happens or down? Etc.

[12/30/2003 9:42:42 PM] [Investortrader] RJM, I'm talking buying 1000 shares when the ask has like 50,000 shares ... I'd say maybe 1% of my trades are market orders :)

[12/30/2003 9:42:50 PM] [RJMGroup] No, that's not technically a bearish engulfing candle for CHINA.

[12/30/2003 9:43:03 PM] [lavenderangel] trending up in stoch, MACD neutral with slight up

[12/30/2003 9:43:09 PM] [RJMGroup] Not me. It's not worth the risk when a limit order makes sure I never get hurt.

[12/30/2003 9:43:26 PM] [RJMGroup] CHINA's price isn't trending up.

[12/30/2003 9:43:30 PM] [lavenderangel] thanks. just learning to read candles

[12/30/2003 9:43:32 PM] [RJMGroup] It's flat.

[12/30/2003 9:43:53 PM] [cpratsch] CHINA short stochs down, dipping

[12/30/2003 9:43:55 PM] [Investortrader] I ordered candlestick1's book a few nights ago, maybe I'll know all the names for them candles soon!

[12/30/2003 9:44:09 PM] [lavenderangel] no, it price is trading horizontal. what settings are you using?

[12/30/2003 9:44:20 PM] [RJMGroup] Yes, horizontal is FLAT. :)

[12/30/2003 9:44:28 PM] [cpratsch] CHINA-yesterday bearish candle

[12/30/2003 9:44:31 PM] [lavenderangel] ok, new term for me.

[12/30/2003 9:44:59 PM] [cpratsch] China-yesterday bearish candle, today price own. Good???

[12/30/2003 9:45:01 PM] [lavenderangel] or i should say it's a def'n of a term i've heard and not quite known how to interpret

[12/30/2003 9:45:20 PM] [RJMGroup] From August to now the price of CHINA has gone almost nowhere.

[12/30/2003 9:45:43 PM] [lavenderangel] don't you think it's time for a breakout?
[12/30/2003 9:45:57 PM] [lavenderangel] i see a triangle forming
[12/30/2003 9:46:02 PM] [RJMGroup] Yeah, but a breakout up or down? :)
[12/30/2003 9:46:23 PM] [lavenderangel] that's always the question!
[12/30/2003 9:46:27 PM] [cpratsch] CHINA-TSV 17 up, good sign
[12/30/2003 9:46:36 PM] [RJMGroup] Well, if you see a triangle than it's descending and therefore would be down.
[12/30/2003 9:46:45 PM] [cpratsch] BOP up

[12/30/2003 9:48:37 PM] [cpratsch] so, it may go up soon. Watch it!
[12/30/2003 9:48:40 PM] [RJMGroup] CHINA is fairly valued right now. I'd preferred an undervalued stock.
[12/30/2003 9:48:51 PM] [lavenderangel] what does that mean. the big boys will act.
[12/30/2003 9:49:07 PM] [cpratsch] value vs price matter little today
[12/30/2003 9:49:09 PM] [lavenderangel] how do you tell an undervalued from an overvalued stock?
[12/30/2003 9:49:17 PM] [RJMGroup] I use VectorVest for that.
[12/30/2003 9:49:26 PM] [lavenderangel] ok
[12/30/2003 9:49:33 PM] [RJMGroup] It matters to me. I'll always pick an undervalued to an overvalued stock.
[12/30/2003 9:49:35 PM] [cpratsch] big boys-investment funds, retirrement funds, big money
[12/30/2003 9:49:50 PM] [lavenderangel] oh, the manipulators you mean?
[12/30/2003 9:49:54 PM] [Borankin] Is Vector Vest bullet Proof?
[12/30/2003 9:50:06 PM] [RJMGroup] No such thing, Borankin. :)
[12/30/2003 9:50:11 PM] [cpratsch] well, the result is manipulation

[12/30/2003 9:53:15 PM] [Borankin] I've never read the McMillan books. Some people here swear by him. Max Steel for one.
[12/30/2003 9:54:00 PM] [lavenderangel] yes, i've spoken with him. i've had so little time to read him and i don't want to pick his brain until i've read more of the mcmillan books.
