[4/2/2004 8:51:11 AM] <bmwrider> Morning

[4/2/2004 8:51:27 AM] <acmetrader> I thought the unemployment rate was determined by the number collecting unemployment

[4/2/2004 8:55:53 AM] <Investortrader> That's exactly right Hotto, the fed will FOLLOW the market, and won't lead it here in raising rates I don't think

[4/2/2004 8:55:53 AM] <micky> yey thank you VJ you also

[4/2/2004 8:56:44 AM] <malealltrash> I'm so tired had to throw the dart 1,000 times for the govt to get those employment #'s up now they want me to hit the new fed rates wow

[4/2/2004 8:57:22 AM] <neofighter> a rate hike will validate strength in the economy-the deep cyclical (ie CE stocks) will fly-goodie :8

[4/2/2004 8:58:33 AM] <Elm> If Dollar Euro rate drops, Oil price may drop reducing gas prices.

[4/2/2004 8:59:22 AM] <marketroque> elm- what makes you conclude that?

[4/2/2004 10:10:07 AM] <tffssf> thanks for the heads up--bot MTLG flat to yesterday after G+

[4/2/2004 10:10:14 AM] <lavenderangel> I agree Johnster.

[4/2/2004 10:10:25 AM] <Investortrader> One other thing on Fast Market conditions .. brokers are "not held" responsible for filling your orders

[4/2/2004 10:10:26 AM] <SailorEd> eTrade Pro charts were slow for a few minutes at open, but watchlists seemed ok - since then it has been fine.

[4/2/2004 10:10:31 AM] <Jwerner> An Etrade rep just told me that my options sell order executed late because they weren't trading for 20 minutes!! That is completely false! They won't own up to it.

[4/2/2004 10:11:49 AM] <Investortrader> Jwerner, check time and sales and see if any traded during that 20 minutes, then confront them

[4/2/2004 10:12:11 AM] <MikeCV> any ideas what's wrong with banks, MER?

[4/2/2004 10:12:34 AM] <Investortrader> Strong jobs numbers implies rate hikes soon, not good for banks

[4/2/2004 10:12:40 AM] <Jwerner> Already have. They did . . . a lot of trading occurred.

[4/2/2004 10:12:53 AM] <jack2h> TD Waterhouse - slow and stupid. Must move IRA

[4/2/2004 10:13:31 AM] <Brooks5> Me too tina

[4/2/2004 10:14:00 AM] <jack2h> TDW - very cumbersome order entries. You were smart Tina

[4/2/2004 10:14:03 AM] <tinaSDtrader> at that time $14.95/trade + $3 for "special" orders. Only thing not a special order was a market.

[4/2/2004 10:14:07 AM] <Brooks5> Worse than that...I use to use Merrill Lynch

[4/2/2004 10:14:42 AM] <jbrad> tina who you with now?

[4/2/2004 10:14:59 AM] <jack2h> I talked to them about their automatic time out of every 20 mins. They told me, in essence, tough!!

[4/2/2004 10:14:59 AM] <imjim> OK -- Tina abd Brooks I can't resist who do you use.

[4/2/2004 10:15:01 AM] <nemsca> what does level 2 at tradestation cost/month?

[4/2/2004 10:15:04 AM] <djcd> tina who is your broker now if u don't mind ? TY

[4/2/2004 10:15:37 AM] <tinaSDtrader> I have several clients who use Cybertrader, they like them

[4/2/2004 10:15:42 AM] <jack2h> in IB, will move more to them

[4/2/2004 10:15:54 AM] <oddsbettor> Barn, the brothers Duke are at it again

[4/2/2004 10:15:59 AM] <Elm> Schwab owns Cybertrader

[4/2/2004 10:16:27 AM] <tinaSDtrader> In IB, just be careful not to double click on the data line, will auto execute an order. I haven't done that, but a client of mine did and lost $1100!!

[4/2/2004 10:16:41 AM] <dagwood> When I was a SOES trader I could make 1/8 scalp trading between orders,,,, $17 in & $17 out but it left about $70 for me.

[4/2/2004 10:17:01 AM] <Brooks5> Thanks tina...I haven't heard that one

[4/2/2004 10:17:14 AM] <tinaSDtrader> then came decimalization dag

[4/2/2004 10:18:27 AM] <General> Tina are you saying if you d click on bid or ask it trades

[4/2/2004 10:18:57 AM] <tinaSDtrader> Yes, careful not to double click. I think it's a hot key that auto executes but call IB for sure on that.

[4/2/2004 10:19:24 AM] <Jwerner> Is it just me and my optimism, or does CNLG look like it's setting up for a Partaaa!

[4/2/2004 10:19:28 AM] <gary12> tina you can turn it off

[4/2/2004 10:19:49 AM] <Brooks5> where Gary12

[4/2/2004 10:20:09 AM] <tinaSDtrader> My client was practicing in after hours, dble clicked and was in. Then he went to put up a sell dbl clicked got other end of spread ($2), down $1100 in about 2 mins. Lesson learned: don't practice in a/h, and careful dbl clicking.

[4/2/2004 3:09:24 PM] <lavenderangel> BKHM doing well today too
[4/2/2004 3:10:15 PM] <hotto> Puts.. are tricky now.. If you do... better focus on a sector...like financials.. or other Int sensitives.. In case this new Sea Change continues...
[4/2/2004 3:10:41 PM] <Jwerner> Thanks Hotto

[4/2/2004 3:11:30 PM] <america> good luck over weekend jwerner. and please let us know all is well as soon as you can. we'll be thinking of you.

[4/2/2004 3:12:27 PM] <hotto> yw... Remember.. It is still a Bull Mkt.. even if many want to pooh pooh... it.. For a quick check... look at the H/L Each day during the IT Correction.. NEVER neg !

[4/2/2004 3:13:07 PM] <hotto> And... now.. H/L has been building each day... since the 3/24 Low..

[4/2/2004 3:14:03 PM] <hotto> Puts... was for Feb and March to 3/25... AND may be ok again.. after end of April... AGAIN.. unless you can Focus... to a sector.. with a theory..

[4/2/2004 3:15:00 PM] <tinaSDtrader> The trend is your friend until it ends.

[4/2/2004 3:15:03 PM] <payck> +72 1712/1605 468/.54

[4/2/2004 3:15:16 PM] <hotto> STTX 20.35 +1.36...new HOD.. after slight hiccup to 19.95..

[4/2/2004 3:15:26 PM] <dagwood> but !!! JILL gonna short you one of these days..... with your 8 million $$ CEO hog.

[4/2/2004 3:16:02 PM] <lavenderangel> sold out of VASC for small profit during down turn but bot back at my orig price.

[4/2/2004 3:16:46 PM] <tinaSDtrader> NGEN bounce 200ema 5s, pukers now kicking themselves. Never easy in this biz.

[4/2/2004 3:16:58 PM] <Jwerner> I'm glad to hear that Hotto. I'm having a hard time weeding out my portfolio. I like everything there (hotto picks) NGEN, LPSN, SYNC, VICL, CNLG, WEDX, and VASC

[4/2/2004 3:17:32 PM] <tinaSDtrader> Having to pick between good things, that's called a "quality problem."

[4/2/2004 3:17:49 PM] <hotto> yes tina... We needed that dip to retest the 8.59 BO ... now we have it.. Next ??? back up to SMA50.. ?

[4/2/2004 3:18:01 PM] <Investortrader> A nice problem to have!

[4/2/2004 3:18:09 PM] <Jwerner> you got that right

[4/2/2004 3:18:20 PM] <Coydog> PECS nice BO today with volume

[4/2/2004 3:20:05 PM] <tinaSDtrader> NGEN a sym triangle daily, target a few pts higher

[4/2/2004 3:22:02 PM] <tinaSDtrader> sounds good

[4/2/2004 3:22:11 PM] <lavenderangel> I got caught in stocks when market turned down when my foot was first broken. I lived thru them coming back. I'm handling dips pretty well these days

[4/2/2004 3:22:17 PM] <tinaSDtrader> buy a case of fav beer and a pizza with it

[4/2/2004 3:23:21 PM] <johnport> Need 2 bottles with CNLG today

[4/2/2004 3:23:22 PM] <tinaSDtrader> I find often triangle targets tend to be around

[4/2/2004 3:24:37 PM] <tinaSDtrader> Hotto - any thoughts on the new ETF coming out, NY, NYSE 100?
[4/2/2004 3:24:41 PM] <hotto> Remember... After the Int. rate shifts... Breadth will not be so strong.. more selective..
[4/2/2004 3:24:46 PM] <Loufla> Tina- Think its Ferraari Carrano- I like it too, literally-Now Ferrai- dats a car!
[4/2/2004 3:25:00 PM] <Loufla> Ferrari
[4/2/2004 3:25:05 PM] <hotto> tina.. I like it.. need to go over the details..
[4/2/2004 3:25:21 PM] <tinaSDtrader> it caught my attn too
[4/2/2004 3:25:37 PM] <tinaSDtrader> as long as it can quickly get up to adequate volume
[4/2/2004 3:25:46 PM] <Johnster> hotto, does fact that VASC couldn't bounce this afternoon an indication it's run is over?
[4/2/2004 3:26:09 PM] <Sharon1555> now you're talking Tina
[4/2/2004 3:26:26 PM] <lars> Tina What days do you use to draw your triangle ?
[4/2/2004 3:27:09 PM] <johnport> Daily on VASC shows good picture
[4/2/2004 3:27:20 PM] <Quintus> agreed on breadth hotto. i remember colums from helene meisler on thestreet.com noting that so many debt/financial issues trade on the nyse, that (artificially?) pumped up the A/D line last few years. these closed end funds, etc apparently account for some 20% of NYSE issues.
[4/2/2004 3:27:59 PM] <hotto> Johnster... look at the chart... just turned up today.. It may take 2 or 3 days to get back up to 10.69... I can wait.
[4/2/2004 3:28:35 PM] <tinaSDtrader> NGEN daily bars sym triangle, peaks: 3/3, 3/18, 3/26, btms 3/16, 3/24, 4/1
[4/2/2004 3:29:20 PM] <hotto> From 9.40 to 10.69 ... is 13.7 %. I will wait a month for that... if I must...
[4/2/2004 3:29:37 PM] <swan> V2 buying time?
[4/2/2004 3:29:37 PM] <tinaSDtrader> you are a patient man Mr. Hotto
[4/2/2004 3:29:43 PM] <hotto> time for my Calculator..
[4/2/2004 3:29:46 PM] <tinaSDtrader> a necessity in trading
[4/2/2004 3:29:51 PM] <Quintus> SAFM -- it's time for a new Level
[4/2/2004 3:30:14 PM] <payck> +86 1729/1586 183/.54
[4/2/2004 3:30:51 PM] <Quintus> SAFM btw fundies are Nice !
[4/2/2004 3:31:09 PM] <tinaSDtrader> KLIC - 5s, failed asc tr became a horiz channel, broke out last 5min bar
[4/2/2004 3:31:25 PM] <hotto> IF... I say IF... we could do 13.7% per month... That would be 466% per year... Almost as well as we did last year...
[4/2/2004 3:31:32 PM] <hotto> :8
[4/2/2004 3:31:41 PM] <tinaSDtrader> Not much target in it tho, but on daily is proceeding to target of falling wedge
[4/2/2004 3:31:45 PM] <gary12> :8
[4/2/2004 3:32:00 PM] <bmweyrauch> :)
[4/2/2004 3:32:15 PM] <hotto> I know.. some will say... oh oh... hotto is compounding again... So the Bull Mkt is over....
[4/2/2004 3:32:20 PM] <hotto> :D
[4/2/2004 3:32:35 PM] <tinaSDtrader> I'll take that hotto, why not just round up to 14%?
[4/2/2004 3:32:42 PM] <hotto> They said that last May / June / October..
[4/2/2004 3:32:43 PM] <gary12> ;)

[4/2/2004 3:34:21 PM] <Optimus> Do you calculate FO on Sym Triangles from the starting top at 9.64 - bottom 6.41 on 3/16 and add to BO above 9.64?

[4/2/2004 3:34:28 PM] <hotto> every time we look... it makes a new HOD.. lol

[4/2/2004 3:34:31 PM] <Quintus> hotto you are not even close to a contrary indicator. whoever said this stuff 3 times in 2003 has gotta be kidding me..

[4/2/2004 3:35:04 PM] <hotto> Quint.. they well say it again.. just listen..;)

[4/2/2004 3:35:14 PM] <tinaSDtrader> sym triangle target - the vortex of the triangle projected upward from b/o point, or down if a shorting pattern

[4/2/2004 3:36:07 PM] <SeattleSteve> Some contrary indicator, hotto. Those who trade on the other side of Hotto, get contrary results, maybe. ;)

[4/2/2004 3:36:09 PM] <hotto> BWill.....:D

[4/2/2004 3:39:42 PM] <tinaSDtrader> Hard to say Care, that spike up early Mar throws it off, good rising btm line tho

[4/2/2004 3:40:48 PM] <CodyCare> Yeah, I drew my line through that splike in March, maybe shouldnt do that.

[4/2/2004 3:41:30 PM] <tinaSDtrader> That's ok, but the peak below doesn't touch the line, not real clean

[4/2/2004 3:41:39 PM] <hotto> NIAG 6.60 +.37.. see if they pop it over LR30 at close.. (6.82)....

[4/2/2004 4:57:46 PM] <REB2186> I don't see a list of Hotto Trades anywhere -- how find it?
[4/2/2004 4:58:00 PM] <tffssf> boss you're awesome
[4/2/2004 4:58:13 PM] <BossFan> no, just lucky!

ClubHome

[4/2/2004 4:58:20 PM] <tffssf> lol
[4/2/2004 4:59:23 PM] <tffssf> looking at that chart, i wouldn't have had the guts to buy at the close!
[4/2/2004 5:01:04 PM] <BossFan> I play for a momentum pop on Mon AM...worked pretty good so far
[4/2/2004 5:02:42 PM] <tffssf> well i did the same with ngen, but it's flat AH...
[4/2/2004 5:03:54 PM] <BossFan> but that had momentum downward...I added at 8.70, not too happy about it right now
[4/2/2004 5:56:18 PM] <beach> does anybody have a spreadsheet to track mkt stats like A/D, New H/L's etc?
[4/2/2004 5:59:52 PM] <RkyMtnFool> I have some information beach. Whatcha need?
[4/2/2004 6:08:26 PM] <beach> jsut dont know how to build a spreadsheet and want to keep track daily of mkt stats
[4/2/2004 7:34:57 PM] <Sharon1555> does anyone know how to write a pfc for the average volume today 5 times greater than the average volume for the last year?
[4/2/2004 7:37:29 PM] <lavenderangel> what's the symbol for avgvol?
[4/2/2004 7:38:04 PM] <Kuf> $AVG(v,1)$
[4/2/2004 7:38:19 PM] <Kuf> thats average volume 1 day ago
[4/2/2004 7:38:40 PM] <honus99> kuf, can you do a 5xvol scan?
[4/2/2004 7:39:02 PM] <lavenderangel> $avg(v) \Rightarrow 5 * avg(v,365)$ maybe.
[4/2/2004 7:39:15 PM] <lavenderangel> would that work KUF?
[4/2/2004 7:39:24 PM] <Kuf> well that will only give you the average volume on the day 365 days ago
[4/2/2004 7:39:28 PM] <lavenderangel> minus they maybe
[4/2/2004 7:39:34 PM] <Kuf> it won't total up and average all 365 days
[4/2/2004 7:40:05 PM] <Sharon1555> volume of this week is greater than 3 x the volume of any day in the past year (252dys)... how would I write a pcf for that?
[4/2/2004 7:40:24 PM] <lavenderangel> i see. i'll leave it to you. can you do do loops? for summations of avg vol?
[4/2/2004 7:40:38 PM] <Kuf> sharon that will be a big pcf
[4/2/2004 7:40:53 PM] <Sharon1555> ohhhhh... darn.. I thought it would be simple
[4/2/2004 7:40:58 PM] <Kuf> you will have to evaluate 252×5
[4/2/2004 7:41:01 PM] <Kuf> days
[4/2/2004 7:41:04 PM] <lavenderangel> no, lots of code lines to do the calcs
[4/2/2004 7:41:27 PM] <lavenderangel> brb
[4/2/2004 7:41:40 PM] <Kuf> TC only deals with fixed time frames. IE daily, hourly. It doesn't do cross time frame comparisons without a lot of code
[4/2/2004 7:41:57 PM] <Jazzy> Hi... are we trying that formula?
[4/2/2004 7:42:23 PM] <Sharon1555> no, we are finding out that it is going to take lots of code to do it
[4/2/2004 7:42:44 PM] <Jazzy> seems like it could be simple...doesn't have to be exactly that...
[4/2/2004 7:43:07 PM] <Jazzy> kinda sorta this weeks/days volume greater than any time in the past year...
[4/2/2004 7:43:22 PM] <Sharon1555> Kuf said we have to evaluate all the days
[4/2/2004 7:43:48 PM] <Jazzy> there, now i can see Kuf
[4/2/2004 7:44:10 PM] <Jazzy> evaluate all the days? hmmm
[4/2/2004 7:44:13 PM] <Sharon1555> ok... scroll back and look at the log
[4/2/2004 7:45:10 PM] <Sharon1555> lavenderangel suggested $avg(v) \Rightarrow 5 * avg(v,365)$ but Kuf said it wouldn't work
[4/2/2004 7:45:33 PM] <Jazzy> it doesn't work
[4/2/2004 7:45:43 PM] <Kuf> that would only compare 2 days
[4/2/2004 7:45:53 PM] <Jazzy> besides we dont' want =
[4/2/2004 7:45:55 PM] <Kuf> today and today - 356 days

ClubHome

[4/2/2004 7:45:59 PM] <Jazzy> only >
[4/2/2004 7:46:01 PM] <Kuf> 365*
[4/2/2004 7:46:26 PM] <Sharon1555> Kuf.. we are not skilled at writing pcfs :)
[4/2/2004 7:46:36 PM] <Jazzy> a year is actually 252, since weekends are subtracted, I believe
[4/2/2004 7:46:41 PM] <Kuf> hey, i'm no expert either
[4/2/2004 7:47:01 PM] <Jazzy> the irony is that you can write a PCF for the close > than...
[4/2/2004 7:47:07 PM] <Kuf> essentially your PCF would have to look like this:
[4/2/2004 7:47:07 PM] <Jazzy> so why not volume
[4/2/2004 7:48:21 PM] <Kuf> $\text{avg}(v) \geq 5 * (\text{avg}(v,1)) \ \& \ \text{avg}(v) \geq 5 * (\text{avg}(v,2)) \ \&$
[4/2/2004 7:48:33 PM] <Jazzy> argh
[4/2/2004 7:48:44 PM] <Sharon1555> long long long pcf
[4/2/2004 7:48:56 PM] <Sharon1555> :P
[4/2/2004 7:49:21 PM] <Jazzy> AVGV30 this will give the the avg vol of the past 30 days
[4/2/2004 7:50:28 PM] <Jazzy> seems therefore, that AVGV5>AVGVOL252
[4/2/2004 7:50:36 PM] <Jazzy> but it doesn't work
[4/2/2004 7:51:02 PM] <mstrader> $5 * \text{AVGV} > \text{AVGV252}$
[4/2/2004 7:52:08 PM] <mstrader> only problem is there is no such thing average volume for one day
[4/2/2004 7:52:27 PM] <Kuf> right, actually you'll have to do this:
[4/2/2004 7:52:29 PM] <Sharon1555> could it be AVGV1?
[4/2/2004 7:52:37 PM] <Kuf> $v1 + v2 + v3 \dots / 252$
[4/2/2004 7:52:48 PM] <Kuf> that will give you the avg volume over the year
[4/2/2004 7:53:28 PM] <honus99> that's one long formula
[4/2/2004 7:53:56 PM] <Sharon1555> yeowwwwwwwwwww
[4/2/2004 7:54:26 PM] <mstrader> AVGV252 will give you average volume for past year. i.e. 252 days.
[4/2/2004 7:54:28 PM] <Kuf> so your formula would be $(v + v1 + v2 + v3 + v4) / 5 \geq 5 * (v + v1 + v2 + v3 + v4 + v5 + v6 \dots / 252)$
[4/2/2004 7:55:01 PM] <Kuf> oops you're right mstrader :)
[4/2/2004 7:55:13 PM] <Kuf> avgv will do that for you I forgot
[4/2/2004 7:55:53 PM] <Kuf> $\text{avgv5} \geq (5 * (\text{avgv252}))$
[4/2/2004 7:55:54 PM] <mstrader> So what you are really looking for is today's volume is five times average yearly volume.
[4/2/2004 7:56:14 PM] <Kuf> thats this weeks average is $5 * \text{yearly}$
[4/2/2004 7:56:32 PM] <mstrader> Then all you need is $5 * V > \text{AVG252.1}$
[4/2/2004 7:56:37 PM] <Jazzy> right, that's what I was saying above..but then what
[4/2/2004 7:56:47 PM] <Jazzy> Oh, yes!!!!
[4/2/2004 7:56:57 PM] <Sharon1555> so would $5 * (\text{AVGV2/2}) > \text{AVGV252}$ work?
[4/2/2004 7:57:00 PM] <Jazzy> I'll test it
[4/2/2004 7:57:01 PM] <Kuf> sorry I forgot we had avgv kept reading $\text{avg}(v,1)$
[4/2/2004 7:57:11 PM] <mstrader> where AVG252.1 is average yearly volume as of yesterday
[4/2/2004 7:57:11 PM] <Jazzy> need the ()
[4/2/2004 7:57:18 PM] <Jazzy> also need the comma
[4/2/2004 7:57:20 PM] <Kuf> like I said i'm no PCF expert :)
[4/2/2004 7:57:57 PM] <Kuf> mstrader got it there
[4/2/2004 7:58:03 PM] <Kuf> that's what you want sharon
[4/2/2004 7:58:44 PM] <mstrader> what is AVGV2/2?
[4/2/2004 7:58:52 PM] <Jazzy> rather than today's volume, can we do the weekly volume is >...
[4/2/2004 7:58:57 PM] <Sharon1555> ok... $5 * V > \text{AVG252.1}$ right? no V in AVG252.1?

ClubHome

[4/2/2004 7:59:04 PM] <mstrader> sure
[4/2/2004 7:59:25 PM] <mstrader> sorry my typing error
[4/2/2004 7:59:30 PM] <Kuf> no I was saying to sharon that she wants the formula that mstrader posted: $5 * v > avgv252.1$
[4/2/2004 7:59:40 PM] <mstrader> Here is the correct syntax:
[4/2/2004 7:59:57 PM] <mstrader> $5 * V > AVGV252.1$
[4/2/2004 8:00:20 PM] <mstrader> I missed the V after AVG before.
[4/2/2004 8:00:38 PM] <Sharon1555> thank you mstrader!!!!!!! :8;)
[4/2/2004 8:00:46 PM] <Jazzy> It doesn't work...came up true for IBM...drats
[4/2/2004 8:00:49 PM] <mstrader> yw
[4/2/2004 8:01:10 PM] <mstrader> This is for today's vol comparison.
[4/2/2004 8:01:41 PM] <mstrader> If you want to compare weekly VS yearly then it will be different formula.
[4/2/2004 8:03:12 PM] <mstrader> 1) $AVGV5 > AVGV252$ or 2) $AVGV5 > AVGV252.1$ depending on what you want to compare
[4/2/2004 8:03:21 PM] <Jazzy> ok
[4/2/2004 8:03:39 PM] <Jazzy> I'll test it now... need to calculate
[4/2/2004 8:03:57 PM] <mstrader> what doesn't work?
[4/2/2004 8:04:25 PM] <Kuf> I just made a custom percent true with it. It's true an awful lot :P
[4/2/2004 8:04:29 PM] <Jazzy> the formula test ...everything symbol comes up true...this should be a rare occurrence
[4/2/2004 8:04:42 PM] <honus99> this worked ok, $V \geq 5 * AVGV252$
[4/2/2004 8:05:00 PM] <Jazzy> OK...here's the goal...REV...the volume is higher this week than any time in years
[4/2/2004 8:05:32 PM] <Kuf> ahhh well then averaging the volume over the year isn't what you want to do then
[4/2/2004 8:05:36 PM] <Jazzy> It spiked before the price moved...that's what I want to find...SGI in Jan is another example
[4/2/2004 8:06:10 PM] <Jazzy> I'll take any sample that offers a database that I can scan...doesn't need to be precise
[4/2/2004 8:06:11 PM] <Kuf> honus, right that's the volume today is greater than 5 times the average volume
[4/2/2004 8:06:40 PM] <honus99> I think that's what Sharon wanted.
[4/2/2004 8:07:15 PM] <Kuf> ok, then move the 5 from the left to the right like you did :). Msladers was today's volume * 5 which will be more than the average almost always
[4/2/2004 8:07:48 PM] <Jazzy> could you write what you mean...how would that look?
[4/2/2004 8:08:10 PM] <Sharon1555> $V > 5 * AVGV252$?
[4/2/2004 8:08:32 PM] <honus99> REV anyone
[4/2/2004 8:08:46 PM] <Kuf> honus99's pcfr above: $v > 5 * avgv252$: volume today is greater than 5 times the average volume of 252 days
[4/2/2004 8:08:47 PM] <mstrader> That's right you want 5 on right side. Sorry about that.
[4/2/2004 8:09:27 PM] <Jazzy> Looks good...I'll calc and try it...tests like it ought to
[4/2/2004 8:09:37 PM] <Sharon1555> it is false for IBM :)
[4/2/2004 8:09:52 PM] <honus99> PCYC, OCN, are those the vol. spikes you're looking for Sharon
[4/2/2004 8:09:57 PM] <Kuf> make a custom percent true indicator out of it, and you can find out when it was true in the past
[4/2/2004 8:10:34 PM] <Jazzy> you lost me Kuf
[4/2/2004 8:10:38 PM] <Sharon1555> yes... !
[4/2/2004 8:11:01 PM] <Kuf> jazzy, type that exact formula in a custom % true indicator. It will show you when that was true in the past

[4/2/2004 8:11:10 PM] <Sharon1555> thanks everyone.. you have been very helpful... I have to run to the bank ... great help .. !!!!

[4/2/2004 8:11:24 PM] <Sharon1555> :8

[4/2/2004 8:11:33 PM] <Sharon1555> have a good evening...!

[4/2/2004 8:12:11 PM] <honus99> see ya Sharon, try that scan, gives a couple of bad one's but some very nice one's also

[4/2/2004 8:12:30 PM] <Sharon1555> will do honus!

[4/2/2004 8:12:31 PM] <Kuf> view my chart jazzy

[4/2/2004 8:12:42 PM] <Kuf> notice the middle window

[4/2/2004 8:13:11 PM] <Kuf> see the blue spikes? Any spike is where the formula was true. IE $v > 5 * \text{avgv252}$

[4/2/2004 8:13:20 PM] <Jazzy> cool

[4/2/2004 8:13:36 PM] <Jazzy> do you still have to close the TC program and reopen when you write a new PCF?

[4/2/2004 8:13:56 PM] <Kuf> er, not sure. I think that was fixed but i'm not sure if that fix is live or in beta atm

[4/2/2004 8:14:15 PM] <Kuf> the custom %true allows you to do backtesting of your pcf.

[4/2/2004 8:15:22 PM] <Gtd> Try $\text{avgv5}/\text{avgv252.5}$ to get a proportion, sort watchlist to bring the big surges to the top

[4/2/2004 8:16:33 PM] <Jazzy> I'm turning up - 0 - stocks using that scan... something's off... 6:20pm is the time and can't get a more recent update on the calc

[4/2/2004 8:16:59 PM] <Jazzy> OK...I'll fiddle with things...somethings not right

[4/2/2004 8:20:17 PM] <gary12> $(V > 5 * \text{AVGV250})$ this is volume 5x avgv250 days

[4/2/2004 8:21:27 PM] <gary12> $v > 5*$ is todays volume

[4/2/2004 8:22:52 PM] <Kuf> jazzy, I think you were asking for something like this earlier: $v > \text{max}(v, 252)$

[4/2/2004 8:23:03 PM] <Kuf> that's todays volume is greater than any day in the last 252 days

[4/2/2004 8:26:59 PM] <Kuf> is that what you were looking for?

[4/2/2004 8:29:40 PM] <Jazzy> I think it is what I'm looking for, but my PCF calc won't update so can't try anything til this glitch goes away... sigh.

[4/2/2004 8:42:36 PM] <w2jc> click the 'update with cd data' and it shud force re-calc

[4/2/2004 9:27:46 PM] <Bobtrader> KUF ..are you still here
