[1/9/2004 1:51:44 AM] [Lvu2] I'm not typing a word I'm using a voice recognition software to dictate directly into the chat
[1/9/2004 1:52:08 AM] [Lvu2] I wanted to do that at this hour to see if it really works and it does
[1/9/2004 1:52:18 AM] [Candlestick1] what software is it?
[1/9/2004 1:52:23 AM] [sunny] wow, that must be great
[1/9/2004 1:52:31 AM] [AlanD] Nice! And no errors?

ClubHome

had the chance to try in a chat room yet

[1/9/2004 1:53:29 AM] [Candlestick1] can it be used in word for written books?

[1/9/2004 1:53:31 AM] [Lvu2] the web site is dragonsys.com

[1/9/2004 1:54:05 AM] [Lvu2] alternative web site is ScanSoft.com

[1/9/2004 1:54:32 AM] [Lvu2] every word that you have seen for me in this chat has been dictated directly into it I have been typed one-word

[1/9/2004 1:54:57 AM] [Candlestick1] will it work for WORD

[1/9/2004 1:55:25 AM] [Lvu2] yes it works very well with MS Word WordPad are notepad

[1/9/2004 1:55:27 AM] [Candlestick1] what does it do when you say Harami or Doji?

[1/9/2004 1:56:10 AM] [Lvu2] hi Candlestick I've been to your web site and am very impressed

[1/9/2004 1:56:57 AM] [Lvu2] I'm sure that Dragon's NaturallySpeaking has a Japanese version for those who speak Japanese however for particular words that are not in the English vocabulary you would have to make a special entry that word thereafter it would recognize it when you dictated

[1/9/2004 1:56:59 AM] [Candlestick1] thanks, I have been looking for a voice recognition software that was good, I am a very slow typer

[1/9/2004 1:57:44 AM] [Lvu2] same with me I'm a klutz as a typist that was main reason for me getting a dictation software

[1/9/2004 1:58:30 AM] [Candlestick1] I will look at the sites, if it works for dictating a book, I am going to shower you with tons of presents

[1/9/2004 1:59:11 AM] [Lvu2] also Dragon NaturallySpeaking has a built-in word pad called DragonPad it's great to dictate into and then paste it into and e-mail or word document or what ever

[1/9/2004 2:00:17 AM] [Candlestick1] you are making me elated, I was treading hunt and pecking for another 320 pages

[1/9/2004 2:01:10 AM] [Lvu2] you have a ready given me some presents since I have printed out the candlestick patterns from your site thank you

[1/9/2004 2:02:56 AM] [Lvu2] anyone still there I'm still experimenting

[1/9/2004 2:03:22 AM] [RkyMtnFool] Lvu2, which version are you using?

[1/9/2004 2:03:46 AM] [Lvu2] Rocky the latest version is seven

[1/9/2004 2:03:54 AM] [Candlestick1] L2 still here,

[1/9/2004 2:04:09 AM] [Candlestick1] what is cost of software

[1/9/2004 2:04:13 AM] [CashMan] Yes still here just been studing and building watchlists

[1/9/2004 2:04:22 AM] [Lvu2] they have a professional version for lawyers are doctors to version I'm using is called preferred 7.0

ClubHome

[1/9/2004 2:04:47 AM] [RkyMtnFool] They show Preferred, Standard & Essentials as 3 different products.

[1/9/2004 2:05:14 AM] [Candlestick1] which is the best?

[1/9/2004 2:05:16 AM] [Lvu2] Rocky you would want to get preferred standard and essentials are bare-bones

[1/9/2004 2:05:51 AM] [RkyMtnFool] Looks like $200 worth does a nice job!

[1/9/2004 2:06:14 AM] [Lvu2] they produce certain versions for certain professions for example doctors and lawyers. Perhaps now they make one for investors and traders

[1/9/2004 2:06:39 AM] [Candlestick1] you have made me a happy boy, this is what I have been looking for

[1/9/2004 2:07:37 AM] [AlanD] Rky, how much did you have to train it to accept the way you pronounce words and annunciate vowels and so forth?

[1/9/2004 2:07:39 AM] [Lvu2] Candlestick one of my hobbies has been writing a book. I love this voice-recognition software because I can lie back an easy chair and just Kate writing to the computer and see the words magically magically appear on the screen

[1/9/2004 2:08:02 AM] [AlanD] Sorry I think that was meant for Lvu2

[1/9/2004 2:08:19 AM] [RkyMtnFool] Does it have a 7 second delay so I can bleep my initial reaction to some of the dumb questions I see here?

[1/9/2004 2:09:12 AM] [Lvu2] all in the more you train it the better it gets. You can get it right up and running with about 30 minutes of training

[1/9/2004 2:09:49 AM] [Lvu2] and each time you use it it becomes more accurate because the debtor recognizes the pitch of the words you're dictating

[1/9/2004 2:10:20 AM] [Lvu2] the debtor I mean better

[1/9/2004 2:10:22 AM] [AlanD] Well sounds like Scansoft has improved the product. I tried version 5.0 and finally gave it up due to the number of errors. Even after training.

[1/9/2004 2:11:09 AM] [Lvu2] Allen they now advertised product as having better than 95% accuracy and I had used for over two years now

[1/9/2004 2:11:27 AM] [Candlestick1] but even with errors, for writing long copy , isn't better to dictate bad copy and then go back through and correct?

[1/9/2004 2:11:59 AM] [AlanD] Great well I'm glad its working for you. I'll have to take a look, again.

[1/9/2004 2:12:22 AM] [CashMan] Rky LOL You must mean me some times. I do come up with some good ones. LOL

[1/9/2004 2:12:41 AM] [Lvu2] if I weren't dictating into MS Word or DragonPad I would not have the heirs that you see here the reason for the heirs you're seeing is because I'm doing this into the chat program which is not built for voice-recognition

[1/9/2004 12:41:29 PM] [tinaSDtrader] See, they just don't go to the moon without pulling back, except for rare exceptions

[1/9/2004 12:42:22 PM] [Monaken] tina, do see NOVL getting through the 12.50 resist.???

[1/9/2004 12:42:24 PM] [Investortrader] Maybe they don't win in court, but they have tied up a lot of your time, and cost you a lot of money, in defense

[1/9/2004 12:42:29 PM] [Optimus] I used to date a girl named sue. She was like that.

[1/9/2004 12:42:30 PM] [ProfitTrader] OJ - Was a big hit 'American Court Room Drama' in Europe - many folks were hooked - bottom line is American judiciary system is as predictable as mkt ?

[1/9/2004 12:42:42 PM] [Fieldcrestcf] the I should also include Hotto, et al. sorry.

[1/9/2004 12:42:43 PM] [tinaSDtrader] higher tax bracket - quality problem!

[1/9/2004 12:42:47 PM] [RJMGroup] Yeah, I'd have to agree with that, PT. :)
[1/9/2004 12:43:04 PM] [ProfitTrader] Investor, I agree with you - stress, time loss, and may prevent getting new busienss..
[1/9/2004 12:43:14 PM] [hotto] ITIG 7.98 HOD.. I guess we have the answer.. !..
[1/9/2004 12:43:24 PM] [turningpoint] could add to mxim here
[1/9/2004 12:43:44 PM] [tinaSDtrader] Monaken - where are you seeing $12.50 resist on NOVL?
[1/9/2004 12:44:05 PM] [hotto] allowing me a .02 error.. ITIG went to 8... Before dropping to 6..BB)
[1/9/2004 12:44:12 PM] [SeattleSteve] Yes, we can safely say that ITIG was a good add-to at 5 and change :D
[1/9/2004 12:44:19 PM] [CashMan] I didn't know we could sue because we got put into a higher tax bracket. I may have to think about that one for a while. ROFLOL
[1/9/2004 12:44:23 PM] [tinaSDtrader] There is a weekly peak 9/1/00 of 12.75, I'd definitely watch out for that one on NOVL
[1/9/2004 12:44:37 PM] [Monaken] 4/00 & 9/00..if it can get through then will/can it fill the gap to 18?
[1/9/2004 12:44:54 PM] [hotto] thanks Steve.:8

[1/9/2004 12:46:16 PM] [hotto] ITIG.. forget it.. I got my 8.00... on the nose.:)
[1/9/2004 12:46:36 PM] [Fieldcrestcf] you're cutting hotto a lot slack, eh Tina;)
[1/9/2004 12:46:53 PM] [tinaSDtrader] I was figuring about $2 from the breakout for NOVL, so the 12.75 is just short of that, I like that as a first target. Hotto may have other.
[1/9/2004 12:47:02 PM] [hotto] ITIG.. next I will worry about my FOP=9.07 (wild projection.)...
[1/9/2004 12:47:26 PM] [turningpoint] FOP:)
[1/9/2004 12:47:57 PM] [tinaSDtrader] NOVL is first day BTBO today, just needs a bit more volume by day's end to make me like it more.

[1/9/2004 1:41:37 PM] [erisalaw] Hotto thanks for your opinion on WFII last Oct/Nov.
Using options I have been able to make a big impact on my trading account. I entered Oct 31 and the first trade lost money on my first Dec options like we talked aobut in early Nov when WFII tanked. Based upon your convictions and my study of WFII (Chart and Fundamentals) I reloaded December 22 and have now closed. On all of my investment (including 30 worthless options in Dec) I made an 85.6% profit. Wow and thanks.

[1/9/2004 3:34:42 PM] [Investortrader] Not really Dragon considering the big drug companies spend over twice as much on Advertising as they do on research! That's what we are paying for

[1/9/2004 3:35:50 PM] [Investortrader] Dragon, you're wrong, it's the huge advertising budget, not the research
[1/9/2004 3:35:55 PM] [america] hotto, i'll be here. just out of money.:(
[1/9/2004 3:35:59 PM] [malealltrash] many drugs made overseas withj the jobs TEVA one of them
[1/9/2004 3:36:03 PM] [Dragon1] of course IT that too, but that is probably included in the cost in canada too
[1/9/2004 3:36:27 PM] [Investortrader] No it's not, since it's twice as much as their research cost
[1/9/2004 3:36:32 PM] [Monaken] And the drug companies write adv. expense on balance sheet as "R&D"--not kidding
[1/9/2004 3:36:37 PM] [Dragon1] TEVA has a manufacturing facility here, i have a friend that works there
[1/9/2004 3:36:52 PM] [Investortrader] If they covered advertising and not research, the price would be closer
[1/9/2004 3:37:18 PM] [malealltrash] A lot of research is funded by the govt
[1/9/2004 3:37:31 PM] [Dragon1] so we pay for that then as well
[1/9/2004 3:37:40 PM] [Bobtrader] price is what they can get .. nothing more
[1/9/2004 3:37:48 PM] [malealltrash] this conversation closed with me bye
[1/9/2004 3:37:50 PM] [payck] think you're mistaken on research costs invest, they are huge, and takes years to bring a drug to market, not to mention having to cover the costs of the ones that get dropped

[1/9/2004 3:38:41 PM] [Investortrader] payck, No I'm not, there was a study done and they listed each drug company and their advertising to research cost, all were over 2 times, some spent over 3 times on advertising as on research, one of the industries dirty little secrets that got out :)

[1/9/2004 3:44:38 PM] [Investortrader] acme, don't you think the extra $'s everyone would have to spend would make up for that? It would still be spent somewhere, would only kill the drug industries fat wages and bonuses, not the economy, consider your source, vested interest there

[1/9/2004 3:49:42 PM] [tinaSDtrader] Not predicting the sky will fall, just saying some sort of pause. A pause can come in form of one bear day, a sideways move allowing the MAs to catch up, or a minor pullback to support. [1/9/2004 4:22:25 PM] [hotto] yw Steve.. good Trading !.. your NOVL reallly came through !

[1/9/2004 4:23:01 PM] [Zathrus] Hey hotto - Just wanted to thank you....I had two batches of KERX - Sold one exactly at the top today for 55% gain, and the other a little lower for 35% gain - been in it about 3 days. Couldn't have done it without ya!

[1/9/2004 4:23:41 PM] [hotto] Dragon... yes.. AT the last.half hour point.. . the relationship betw Avgs. and %A/D could have gone either way...

[1/9/2004 4:24:07 PM] [DataMiner] hotto, your teachings are working for me, I am learning to find the balance between fear and greed

[1/9/2004 4:24:26 PM] [Dragon1] the A/D ratio was pretty bad on the Nasdaq, although the percentage down wasn't that bad, so what do you make of that

[1/9/2004 4:24:50 PM] [kellam] ASIA hit 9 today,in at 7.31 holding & watching, will not get greedy

[1/9/2004 4:24:57 PM] [hotto] in the end.. A/D held.. about Flat.. Good enough for me to cover... ie... there were buyers holding posns into close.. Not dumping.. That means were not all just Traders..

[1/9/2004 4:25:13 PM] [CashMan] Hotto you called a good one. I think you got a time machine LOL

[1/9/2004 4:25:17 PM] [SeattleSteve] Good insight hotto. Thanks

[1/9/2004 4:25:26 PM] [benz] hotto - do you have a site we can look at?

[1/9/2004 4:25:29 PM] [swan] I show at Briefing, Adv= 1611 and Decl= 1688. nediv or a wash?

[1/9/2004 4:25:32 PM] [hotto] Again .. we Traders were able to lay off our stocks onto New money entering mkt..

[1/9/2004 4:25:32 PM] [Dragon1] i find Hotto's steady hand on the wheel and calming narative quite helpful in controlling the greed/fear factor

[1/9/2004 4:25:44 PM] [swan] neg-div

[1/9/2004 4:26:02 PM] [payck] next on hottoworks.com "tomorrows charts today" - added value feature, for educational purposes only

[1/9/2004 4:26:10 PM] [hotto] Earlier today .. I heard a report of money coming into market over last several weeks..

[1/9/2004 4:26:18 PM] [CodyCare] hotto did you see ASIA and ITIG both close at HOD?

[1/9/2004 4:26:19 PM] [Monaken] LOLROF, pay

[1/9/2004 4:26:44 PM] [payck] ;)

[1/9/2004 4:26:53 PM] [Dragon1] LOL i love it, can i get a lifetime subscription

[1/9/2004 4:26:57 PM] [hotto] The A/D holding into close vs ver neg Avgs.. tells me..

[1/9/2004 4:27:31 PM] [Dragon1] that is actually a positive divergence

[1/9/2004 4:27:46 PM] [Dragon1] right?

[1/9/2004 4:27:49 PM] [hotto] The final statement on the day.. of course... will be in the H / L numbers.. and the AS2V / DS2V and other internal measures..

[1/9/2004 4:27:58 PM] [hotto] Note.. Yesterday'

[1/9/2004 4:28:18 PM] [Dragon1] of course, homework, homework, hottowork

[1/9/2004 4:28:20 PM] [swan] are you looking to buy some things in the post-mkt to flip into a presumably up open on Monday?

[1/9/2004 4:28:34 PM] [hotto] Yesterday's numbers were very good... Much better than I had expected to see..

[1/9/2004 4:29:03 PM] [hotto] Good enough.. that I think I can trade the Long side... next few days...

[1/9/2004 4:29:17 PM] [hotto] Will see the Monday Open...

[1/9/2004 4:29:33 PM] [Dragon1] the good numbers you are referring to specifically are the AS2V and DS2V?

[1/9/2004 4:30:18 PM] [Cobratrader] Hotto the NHB index is gone now, is there another we can watch?

[1/9/2004 4:30:24 PM] [hotto] I cleared my China stocks.. because... the Asia mkts were strong today... And.. may react neg on Monday to our 1. DJIA -133 and 2. Weak job growth...

[1/9/2004 4:31:02 PM] [hotto] because that will keep the Admin. letting Dollar slide.. to gain jobs for the Election...

[1/9/2004 4:31:48 PM] [hotto] I expect Asian mkts to be neg on Monday...

[1/9/2004 4:31:53 PM] [Dragon1] japan trying to stop the bleeding of the stronger yen,

[1/9/2004 4:32:04 PM] [hotto] so.. I sold my China stocks today...

[1/9/2004 4:32:11 PM] [Johnster] hotto, given your China comment, how about shorting CHINA AHs...has a doji on daily above UBB...too risky?

[1/9/2004 4:32:12 PM] [hotto] We will see.

[1/9/2004 5:49:01 PM] [hotto] TSV right now... Start of new year.. just after tax selling.. is particularly useless...
[1/9/2004 5:49:02 PM] [payck] Maybe it'll wait till Monday:o
[1/9/2004 5:49:14 PM] [Moe] Hotto, you mean you don't feel TSV is worth monitoring? I'm learning as I go
[1/9/2004 5:49:41 PM] [hotto] it acts as an oscillator.. over 3 different ST mkt phases.. and
[1/9/2004 5:50:08 PM] [hotto] will be Very sensitive to the exact number in the xx part of TSVxx
[1/9/2004 5:50:44 PM] [Moe] ty..for explanation Hotto
[1/9/2004 5:52:03 PM] [hotto] I studied TSV for over 2 years.. many different values of xx
[1/9/2004 5:52:08 PM] [Moe] So reference to MacD 12,26,9 is more a propos

[1/9/2004 5:53:24 PM] [hotto] MACD just is an easy way to keep track of 2 different MAs.. relative to each other
[1/9/2004 5:54:20 PM] [hotto] I use the MACD 12.26.9... according to the Inventor..

[1/9/2004 5:59:02 PM] [w2jc] i figure all they have to do is fetch the file every day or so and replace the one they have locally... then it will always be up to date... it's a 'reference' type file so normally one only goes there when you've got a question to answer !!

[1/9/2004 5:59:07 PM] [payck] :D
