[1/27/2004 7:40:23 AM] [imjim] gm -- Here's an upgrade tip frommy experience--When you update to the new version of TCNet leave enough time to fix problems that may come up. After updating my machine kept complaining that it could not find the CD ROM databank even though I copy all charts to hard drive. The fix for the problem is on the support site but implementing it takes 10 to 20 minutes or even longer depending on the speed of your PC because you must recopy all hard drive charts.

[1/27/2004 8:25:36 AM] [hotto] this is way too early for side issues like WFII ANDW to show their hand.

[1/27/2004 8:28:07 AM] [Johnster] hotto, re: DNDN...how do you see this playing out? Will it stay above the 12.75 offering price until the offering closes and THEN PB? Maybe we should target it for a short at that time...?

[1/27/2004 8:28:40 AM] [hotto] ADCT 3.67 +.10.. Watching for that run to 4.10 area... soon

[1/27/2004 8:29:40 AM] [hotto] DNDN.. I would not make that bet.. could do that OR.. dip below.. to about 12.25 before bounce..

[1/27/2004 9:03:25 AM] [hotto] and.. usually can get free info from Network Assoc.. or Symantec

[1/27/2004 9:03:54 AM] [meisterhund] isn't it disguised as "undeliverable mail" ?

[1/27/2004 9:03:58 AM] [lavenderangel] Outlook won't let anything coming thru than can execute. and symantec last week quarantined about 6 spam emails with viruses.

[1/27/2004 9:04:02 AM] [hotto] Yes... SCARY !

[1/27/2004 9:04:35 AM] [hotto] We have had many Legitimate..."Returned undeliv" re Hottoworks.com

[1/27/2004 9:04:45 AM] [Investortrader] Why would anyone open their own e-mail attachment from an undelivered e-mail they never sent? Then again, some people are really stupid

[1/27/2004 9:05:00 AM] [hotto] Paul says... virtually Indistinguishable.. from the Real thing

[1/27/2004 9:05:11 AM] [hotto] Scary

[1/27/2004 9:05:20 AM] [lavenderangel] and several times i've been asked if I want to update my normal.dot file and i didn't have word open. if you get asked that, say no, cancel several times until it goes away. and email has come in and modified that template in word!

[1/27/2004 9:05:50 AM] [hotto] :o

[1/27/2004 9:05:55 AM] [AllWeOwn] what are symptoms if you get it

[1/27/2004 9:06:16 AM] [hotto] No symptoms.. for now..

[1/27/2004 9:06:29 AM] [hotto] In February.... Bomb

[1/27/2004 9:06:34 AM] [AllWeOwn] oh great

[1/27/2004 9:07:05 AM] [lavenderangel] thx for tip on undeliverable mail. i get those from time to time. i'll delete them and not open them

[1/27/2004 9:07:34 AM] [AllWeOwn] sometimes when you get a virus you can hear it downloading ; like unusaul activity for a normal email

[1/27/2004 9:07:50 AM] [tobydad] gm all, i know this sounds too basic, but symantec, zonelabs, etc. all have VERY frequent updates--most know this, some do not. One should check almost each day to be sure. Just my 2c.

[1/27/2004 9:08:20 AM] [lavenderangel] my virus update automatically updates. it went off this morning, too

[1/27/2004 9:09:08 AM] [tobydad] And, if you have broadband, puhlease get a firewall.

[1/27/2004 9:09:21 AM] [tobydad] 2 more c.

[1/27/2004 9:09:22 AM] [lavenderangel] symantec's norton anti-virus software is worth every penny.

[1/27/2004 9:09:30 AM] [Odyssey] There are fresh updates on Norton ... just downloaded them

[1/27/2004 9:09:35 AM] [lavenderangel] yes, firewall does help too

[1/27/2004 9:09:53 AM] [tobydad] zone alarm is free, no reason not to.

[1/27/2004 9:09:56 AM] [lavenderangel] Odyssey, set your parameters on Norton to auto check for updates

[1/27/2004 9:10:18 AM] [Odyssey] Thanks angel

[1/27/2004 9:10:29 AM] [lavenderangel] yw

[1/27/2004 9:10:47 AM] [root] gd. morn. all - hi hotto- do you think that we beoke out enough over the trendline from 2000 to be starting aa move or is it not yet clear???

[1/27/2004 9:11:14 AM] [erisalaw] Thanks angel. I had it set to check every other day. Will make it automatic on Norton Antivirus.

[1/27/2004 9:11:23 AM] [hotto] root... gm... Not yet "clear".. I like a Shake first.. always..

[1/27/2004 9:11:43 AM] [root] thanks

[1/27/2004 9:11:51 AM] [Nomeite] I use Norton, my ISP has a virus junk mail service on the far end and I don't do e-mail on this machine..just in case

[1/27/2004 9:11:55 AM] [hotto] yw

[1/27/2004 9:12:27 AM] [lavenderangel] TRIB +.05

[1/27/2004 9:12:52 AM] [AllWeOwn] MeAfee asks if you want to do the update whenever one is available; if the only ports you are using are totally secure and invisible, & your're on broadband,why would you need a firewall

[1/27/2004 9:14:44 AM] [lavenderangel] If you're connected to internet, others can access your machine. so firewall protects you from that.

[1/27/2004 9:14:53 AM] [Cobratrader] would be nice to know what date the virus is to hit, these can tie up the internet and make it very difficult to connect and get trades done,

[1/27/2004 9:15:25 AM] [lavenderangel] Hotto said FEB 11, I thought

[1/27/2004 9:15:26 AM] [hotto] I think Paul said 2/11 But is posted on Symantec.com

[1/27/2004 9:15:34 AM] [hotto] :)

[1/27/2004 9:15:41 AM] [hotto] brb.. coffee

[1/27/2004 9:16:11 AM] [isay] allwe... your assumption of "totally secure" is impossible if you are running windows w/o a firewall, even with a firewall it is nearly impossible

[1/27/2004 9:16:21 AM] [Cobratrader] thanks, :8

[1/27/2004 9:16:49 AM] [Investortrader] Windows and "totally secure" is completely oncongruous!

[1/27/2004 9:17:02 AM] [Investortrader] incongruous

[1/27/2004 9:17:55 AM] [Loufla] How about a router?

[1/27/2004 9:18:16 AM] [isay] yes, no software OS "totally secure", and WIndows is an easy target, you need HW protection

[1/27/2004 9:18:35 AM] [payck] W32.Novarg.A@mm is a mass-mailing worm that arrives as an attachment with the file extension .bat, .cmd, .exe, .pif, .scr, or .zip. When a computer is infected, the worm will set up a backdoor into the system by opening TCP ports 3127 thru 3198. This can potentially allow an attacker to connect to the computer and use it as a proxy to gain access to its network resources. In addition, the backdoor has the ability to download and execute arbitrary files.

[1/27/2004 9:19:08 AM] [Mariobozu] Bury that person in cement

[1/27/2004 9:19:19 AM] [payck] The worm will perform a DoS starting on February 1, 2004. It also has a trigger date to stop spreading on February 12, 2004.

[1/27/2004 9:19:46 AM] [payck] Systems Not Affected: DOS, Linux, Macintosh, OS/2, UNIX, Windows 3.x

[1/27/2004 9:19:57 AM] [tobydad] This is also the reason that passwords should be changed frequently and NOT stored on your harddrives.

[1/27/2004 9:20:17 AM] [tobydad] Cache and internet temp files should be cleared nightly!!!

[1/27/2004 9:20:27 AM] [Investortrader] The simple answer is ... DON'T open any e-mail attachements ... Doh!

[1/27/2004 9:20:28 AM] [hotto] FLML 27.25 +.34.. maybe FLML's turn...

[1/27/2004 9:21:28 AM] [VJnet] thanks guys...great to be back, especially since the snow would have reduced my chances of arriving today

[1/27/2004 9:21:28 AM] [tobydad] IT, with all due respect, email attachments are simply the EASY way to get in, not the ONLY way.

[1/27/2004 9:21:48 AM] [root] OBV on gold seems strong and gold looks like a bounce---comments??

[1/27/2004 9:21:56 AM] [Investortrader] tobydad, this one comes as an e-mail attachment :)

I have noted there are two type of people in your room. Those who need the education often only want picks. "Hold their hands" But, IMHO, those of us who have picks or the tools from great coaches like you know that what we really need is education. I joined Hottoworks to support you - no really I joined for the education I know I will receive. I look forward to learning as much of your market wisdom as I CAN ABSORB. When I have learned how to fish, I can always eat. However, like everyone, I enjoy your great calls. I know that I have made at least 10 years of your fees on stocks like WFII, IVAN, EGHT and so many others. I like picks but know that I really need to know how to fish. Not eat a fish sandwich. I am glad that you are THE MAN who can give market calls and market education. I believe that I have only begun to learn from you - Coach. =D

misses you aggravating him LOL

[1/27/2004 7:29:02 PM] [MaxSteel] Hey Mario

[1/27/2004 7:29:26 PM] [MaxSteel] I never aggravated Bor ... we just seem to see thing from a different perspective

[1/27/2004 7:29:47 PM] [wildbill] was only kidding

[1/27/2004 7:30:02 PM] [MaxSteel] I know ...:D

[1/27/2004 7:30:03 PM] [wildbill] he thrives on aggravation

[1/27/2004 7:30:52 PM] [wildbill] in fact trying to "flush" him out as we speak:)

[1/27/2004 7:31:28 PM] [MaxSteel] Besides ... my strength is answering questions about options ... not preaching about them ...

[1/27/2004 7:31:38 PM] [Mariobozu] I have had to learn naked puts all by myself

[1/27/2004 7:31:49 PM] [Mariobozu] I kept hunting for you to bounce ideas

[1/27/2004 7:31:51 PM] [MaxSteel] Oops ... did I say that out loud .....o

[1/27/2004 7:32:17 PM] [Mariobozu] I ended up making myself quite a paycheck tho, but I think I could have done better

[1/27/2004 7:32:25 PM] [wildbill] now we are both trying to flush him out LOL - good one!

[1/27/2004 7:32:47 PM] [Mariobozu] I cant ask you questions if I cant find you!!!

[1/27/2004 7:33:02 PM] [MaxSteel] Mario ... ask away ... naked put's ... sell them short ... and wait ... then do it again ... congrats!!!

[1/27/2004 7:33:11 PM] [napleschip] hi max. you HAVE aggravated BOR...everyone aggravate Bor. i think its fun...)..shit mon! i aggravate everybody!

[1/27/2004 7:33:37 PM] [MaxSteel] naples ... you are the only one that aggravates everyone ...

[1/27/2004 7:33:50 PM] [Mariobozu] Yes - the last 5 weeks have been great - sometimes the put lost 50% or more in 1 day! I was loving it

[1/27/2004 7:34:04 PM] [napleschip] thanks max...knew i could count on you.

[1/27/2004 7:34:41 PM] [napleschip] mario talking business..i'll lurk.

[1/27/2004 7:34:45 PM] [MaxSteel] Mario ... keep your margin efficient and make sure IV is high to give you an edge ... but you knew that ???

[1/27/2004 7:34:50 PM] [Mariobozu] BUT]] My friend hit a big score buying calls - he made 1/2 a mill in three weeks. I want to learn to do THAT!

[1/27/2004 7:35:05 PM] [Mariobozu] I think I know it. I mostly read charts

[1/27/2004 7:35:21 PM] [Mariobozu] If it looks like it will go up and there is money in the put - I sell it

[1/27/2004 7:35:27 PM] [MaxSteel] I think you should learn that from your friend ...

[1/27/2004 7:35:39 PM] [Mariobozu] He isnt sure what he did either

[1/27/2004 7:35:55 PM] [MaxSteel] If you were long Jan calls from Nov ... easy ... but

picking the move is tough

[1/27/2004 7:36:02 PM] [Mariobozu] yes

[1/27/2004 7:36:07 PM] [Mariobozu] A question

[1/27/2004 7:36:18 PM] [MaxSteel] anything

[1/27/2004 7:36:35 PM] [Mariobozu] If the put drops value right away - is it a good idea to take profit? I cant figure if it is better to hold

[1/27/2004 7:37:05 PM] [MaxSteel] You need to look at the yield to expiration !!!

[1/27/2004 7:37:12 PM] [MaxSteel] Example

[1/27/2004 7:37:39 PM] [Mariobozu] What is that?

[1/27/2004 7:38:12 PM] [Mariobozu] One of my examples?

[1/27/2004 7:38:17 PM] [MaxSteel] If you sell a put for $1.00 ... expiration in 30 days, but the underlying goes up, or IV drops(news release etc) ... and it is now worth $0.50 the next day

[1/27/2004 7:39:07 PM] [MaxSteel] YOu need to decide if the $0.50 over the next 29 days is a satisfactory yield on your money, or if you think the underlying may pull back or surprise with more news

[1/27/2004 7:39:57 PM] [Mariobozu] I see, whether I can use the money better flipping more puts - Yes that is what happened with CTXS I sold for 1.25, covered the next day 50 cents

[1/27/2004 7:40:15 PM] [Mariobozu] Do you have a preferred method?

[1/27/2004 7:41:35 PM] [MaxSteel] I target yield of 20% over 30 days or I do not take the trade ... that is about 900% annualized, when the yield is about 300% annualized, I start to look for others, but I have difficulty buying back worthless options for cash and comissions

[1/27/2004 7:42:14 PM] [MaxSteel] so it is a balancing act, and if I need capital for other trades, and how far out to expiration or is there some big news item due out

[1/27/2004 7:43:08 PM] [MaxSteel] Managing risk is also minimizing exposure to the market ... sneak in ... make your profit and get out ...

[1/27/2004 7:43:29 PM] [Mariobozu] I like the way you think

[1/27/2004 7:43:41 PM] [Mariobozu] It is pretty much the lesson I have been learning

[1/27/2004 7:44:02 PM] [MaxSteel] Generally I sell OTM put's, but If I see a big move, I will do a deep ITM vertical spread to capture the bulk of the profit without the risk

[1/27/2004 7:44:45 PM] [MaxSteel] If you read anything from the pros ... (not me) ... they indicate that they work great ... and then one day they blow-up on you

[1/27/2004 7:45:00 PM] [MaxSteel] The lessons I have learned is as follows:

[1/27/2004 7:45:19 PM] [MaxSteel] better with many small trades than 1 large one

[1/27/2004 7:45:41 PM] [MaxSteel] make sure it is liquid ... often easy to get in , but they will scalp you to get out

ClubHome

[1/27/2004 7:46:00 PM] [MaxSteel] make sure you have somewhere to roll out and down to ... just in case

[1/27/2004 7:46:43 PM] [MaxSteel] Often I set a limit order to buy back immediately ... occasionally I get covered while away, then have future opportunities to sell again

[1/27/2004 7:47:12 PM] [MaxSteel] Big stock and indices are easier ... they gap less on news

[1/27/2004 7:47:19 PM] [Mariobozu] How do you set a stop loss?

[1/27/2004 7:47:49 PM] [MaxSteel] beware of one product companies ... they can gap huge ... great unless it is against you

[1/27/2004 7:48:08 PM] [Mariobozu] Stay away from Biotech?

[1/27/2004 7:48:29 PM] [MaxSteel] I use mental stop losses ... option prices fluctuate too much intraday for me to use them ... but you could use contingent orders on the underlying

[1/27/2004 7:49:16 PM] [MaxSteel] Biotech can kill you if it is against you ... but you can still play them ... just cover them ... to better control risk

[1/27/2004 7:50:01 PM] [MaxSteel] that's about all I can suggest to selling put's ...

[1/27/2004 7:50:30 PM] [Mariobozu] Do you have any guidelines on finding things to sell, like volatility scans, ?

[1/27/2004 7:50:53 PM] [Mariobozu] Stocks with high betas?

[1/27/2004 7:51:06 PM] [MaxSteel] I use optionvue to scan for IV, but optionxpress, and optionetics also have scans as do volatility.com

[1/27/2004 7:51:23 PM] [Mariobozu] Optionvue is a paid service?

[1/27/2004 7:52:50 PM] [MaxSteel] Yes ... optionvue is a software program for option trading ... has an add on feature for scanning

[1/27/2004 7:53:37 PM] [Mariobozu] You have been helpful, I have looked for you to bounce ideas off of.

[1/27/2004 7:53:44 PM] [MaxSteel] Optionxpress has a scanner also ... and it is free, but a little different

[1/27/2004 7:54:10 PM] [MaxSteel] send me an e-mail to tcnet if you have questions ... happy to help

[1/27/2004 7:54:43 PM] [Mariobozu] Thanks! I think the best thing I learned tonight is to get in and out quick! I like that

[1/27/2004 7:55:11 PM] [Mariobozu] Do you think optionsXpress is good enough? Or should I look into optionvue

[1/27/2004 7:55:12 PM] [MaxSteel] also ... look for stocks that have moved significantly ... +/- 20% in one day ... usually very high IV, also Biotech announcements, just before earnings ...etc

[1/27/2004 7:55:17 PM] [wildbill] i like that too - imagine that

[1/27/2004 7:56:07 PM] [wildbill] oooh!
[1/27/2004 7:56:10 PM] [MaxSteel] I would not trade without optionvue ... to me it is that good ... if you do go for it ... speak to Tony Ciccone and tell him I sent you
[1/27/2004 7:56:31 PM] [Mariobozu] Okay, great
[1/27/2004 7:57:22 PM] [MaxSteel] Mario ... next time you are in and out quick ... don't tell your wife you got it from me ...B)

[1/27/2004 7:58:44 PM] [MaxSteel] The one reason I usually trade with OTM puts is it allows me to have a life, and trade end of day ... much less stress, and it forces me to select only the best high yielding trades
[1/27/2004 8:00:27 PM] [Mariobozu] Verrrry interesting. This helps me consolidate what I have been learning, Thanks\
[1/27/2004 8:01:07 PM] [Mariobozu] Optionsvue has a nice site - I am going to check it out
[1/27/2004 8:02:30 PM] [Mariobozu] I signed up for the newsletter
[1/27/2004 8:06:32 PM] [MaxSteel] any other options questions ... need to do something to get Bor out here ... Bor ... Are you there???
[1/27/2004 8:07:45 PM] [MaxSteel] Naples ... you still lurking ???
[1/27/2004 8:08:36 PM] [erisalaw] Max/ I'm here and trade a lot of options also
[1/27/2004 8:09:46 PM] [MaxSteel] speaking of taxes ... if you trade options in a hedged manner ... it is possible to have a short go against you and the long cover you into the end of year ... you take the loss on the short, while holding the long into the new year and then cover ... you keep the cash and deferr the tax for a year
[1/27/2004 8:10:12 PM] [MaxSteel] Hi eris ...)
[1/27/2004 8:10:39 PM] [MaxSteel] What is your style Eris?
[1/27/2004 8:14:08 PM] [erisalaw] Mostly calls and puts. Bought and sold but sometimes sold naked or to protect a stock postion - (very few of those -80% Of my trades are long calls/puts)
[1/27/2004 8:15:31 PM] [erisalaw] I looked at Optionvue but could not justify the added expense over my level II options info from broker. I will email you and maybe learn why Optionvue is so good. BTW what level of Optionvue do you use?
[1/27/2004 8:16:28 PM] [erisalaw] All of my trades are driven by a decision to be long or short a paricular stock. I study the spreads, volatility and deltas to choose strike and month.
[1/27/2004 8:17:58 PM] [MaxSteel] I use end of day quotes only
[1/27/2004 8:18:09 PM] [MaxSteel] 20minute delay if I am home
