[3/11/2004 8:53:02 AM] [Cag] amazing Kellam... It only takes one buyer and seller to agree on lower price to take everyone else down, or perhaps one employee and employer. :o

[3/11/2004 8:54:51 AM] [hotto] I heard an interview with a computer programmer somewhere yesterday. The "Solution" to the competition from India...

[3/11/2004 8:55:12 AM] [hotto] Just cut the programmers' wages here... Simple..

[3/11/2004 8:55:30 AM] [hotto] Wow !.. Talk about deflation !

[3/11/2004 8:55:46 AM] [Cag] instant deflation!

[3/11/2004 8:56:12 AM] [isay] too late...all the programming jobs are already gone!

[3/11/2004 8:56:13 AM] [houcpl] programmer in India makes 11,000 year. couldn't afford very many Calif. homes.LOL

[3/11/2004 8:56:16 AM] [hotto] I could not have supported my family... over the 15+ years.. I was in engineering..

[3/11/2004 8:56:19 AM] [lovedust] hi hotto-do you still own some torm?

[3/11/2004 8:56:43 AM] [hotto] yes... TORM.. unfortunately..

[3/11/2004 8:57:10 AM] [isay] the CEO's are still in the US... that's part of the problem! lol...

[3/11/2004 8:57:21 AM] [lovedust] me too-i have no idea how to act.

[3/11/2004 8:57:54 AM] [hotto] They "don't need us anymore"... I heard that somewhere... Maybe it was me...

[3/11/2004 8:58:08 AM] [Cobratrader] outsource 1 CEO and save the company 50 million a year

[3/11/2004 8:59:06 AM] [Harley] what should we do with stocks we just bought

[3/11/2004 8:59:15 AM] [houcpl] most companies are formed to make CEO's rich.

[3/11/2004 8:59:53 AM] [hotto] Sell to the comfort zone.. Then.. if you think they can come back.. hold some.. OR.. take the loss..

[3/11/2004 9:00:19 AM] [isay] sadly houcpl yes, not to provide employment and good quality of life

[3/11/2004 9:00:54 AM] [lovedust] comfort zone?

[3/11/2004 9:01:00 AM] [houcpl] have noticed that over the years. Kinda &&&& with what happens to the empolyee's.

[3/11/2004 9:01:04 AM] [hotto] I have some starter Longs.. (started too soon).. Will likely hold some.. sell some..

[3/11/2004 9:01:30 AM] [Johnster] Is TORM one to hold, hotto? Maybe add to at some level (do you see good entry level)?

[3/11/2004 9:03:03 AM] [hotto] Comfort zone... If you don't know what that means..

[3/11/2004 9:03:51 AM] [nemsca] Hoto..let us know which ones you decide to sell

[3/11/2004 9:03:57 AM] [swan] Hotto, I'm short overnight in the QQQ's. They've been climbing in the prmk. Cover here, or wait for more drop at open?

[3/11/2004 9:04:26 AM] [imjim] Hotto -- just reading the back logs you missed main driver number 4. Commodity price inflation caused by Asian billions trying to live like Americans.

[3/11/2004 9:04:49 AM] [hotto] swan... I could only "guess" here... Too many variables..

[3/11/2004 9:05:08 AM] [themasrader] I got stopped out of NT yesterday afternoon...was considering it as a "several day" swing trade...thought I might have set my stop too tight...imagine my surprise!

[3/11/2004 9:05:13 AM] [hotto] imjim.. good point.. Discussed some earlier..

[3/11/2004 9:06:09 AM] [hotto] Also.. will discuss more - either tonight.. or Saturday..

[3/11/2004 9:06:58 AM] [hotto] about the annecdotes.. recently.. of the commodity prices beginning to creep into the economy... getting to the consumer level.. soon

[3/11/2004 9:08:12 AM] [Johnster] Futures improving...

[3/11/2004 9:08:36 AM] [bravotrader] futures are improving a bit but it is not likely to get a bottom this morning IMO. I would like Hotto's scenario to happen tomorrow

[3/11/2004 9:09:24 AM] [imjim] Yes I agree but what most people haven't figured out is that these prices aren't going back down. Those Chinese and Indians need commodities for their people as well as to keep supplying Wal-Mart.

[3/11/2004 9:10:56 AM] [hotto] yes

[3/11/2004 9:19:50 AM] [Harley] everyone holding ther breath

[3/11/2004 9:20:56 AM] [dagwood] caution on the open.....looks to come back up to apease the gap.....the big question is WHAT THEN?

[3/11/2004 9:21:56 AM] [ProfitTrader] Harley, who is breathing ?

[3/11/2004 9:22:04 AM] [imjim] SAN JOSE, Calif. - Intel Corp. says it's not complying with China's government-imposed wireless security standards, setting the stage for a showdown between the world's most populous nation and U.S.-based technology firms.

[3/11/2004 9:23:43 AM] [dagwood] CRAY holders need to note in May, S-hldr meeting vote to increase shares by 25%.... Dilutive

[3/11/2004 9:23:52 AM] [tiga] NT continues to crawl out of it's hole pm

[3/11/2004 9:24:23 AM] [hotto] 2 days with TRIN over 2.5 at close.. combo of panic and despair... bounce soon
