[1/15/2004 12:26:38 AM] [AlanD] just popping in as I get ready to work on a brief for work. Hello InvestorTrader
[1/15/2004 12:26:52 AM] [Investortrader] Though may be runniing out of steam with the lower volume, but still good volume on it
[1/15/2004 12:27:10 AM] [tobydad] need to pop out of my briefs and go to bed. gn.
[1/15/2004 12:27:38 AM] [Investortrader] Night toby, I'll be headed there real soon myself
[1/15/2004 12:27:39 AM] [erisalaw] Hey Toby. Do not measure a trade by one day. Assert patience. SOme trades take hours, days or gosh even a week or two. MEasure each trade at the end. THEN study what happened. Of course with 60+ positions sometimes it is hard to take a lot of time for study. Just move cash to the next trade and wait (or not) to make money.
[1/15/2004 12:27:40 AM] [parkwaypet] NGPS great candle chart closed on top
[1/15/2004 12:29:00 AM] [tobydad] erisalaw, thx. i'm learning everyday from each of you...and i really appreciate it. keep it coming!

[1/15/2004 12:29:57 AM] [AlanD] Have a good one Investor.
[1/15/2004 12:30:16 AM] [erisalaw] Oz has helped me increase the positions I manage to now over 60. (That is a little scary Oz) but it helps make it such that you can not micromanage each chart. Just the overall positions.
[1/15/2004 12:30:17 AM] [tobydad] i knew i'd get the TMI signal from someone! sorry, SS.

[1/15/2004 9:23:48 AM] [lavenderangel] thanks beach, I'm learning to read it then. I've always liked CLE too.

[1/15/2004 9:23:50 AM] [Monaken] Investor, I believe it is referencing the # of pins your RAM socket requires on the motherbd. 64 pins or 72 pins. Need to determine what you need. Use crucial.com

[1/15/2004 9:24:07 AM] [Investortrader] No, these are both 168 pins, which is what I need

[1/15/2004 9:24:36 AM] [Lfeath] IT I think that is the bit, 32 bits by 72 M

[1/15/2004 9:24:54 AM] [Investortrader] PC133 256MB 32X64 SDRAM

[1/15/2004 9:25:43 AM] [Investortrader] Lfeath, so the 32x72 would be faster?

[1/15/2004 9:26:03 AM] [Lfeath] no speed is the 133

[1/15/2004 9:26:29 AM] [Lfeath] so 133 is faster than the old 100

[1/15/2004 9:26:32 AM] [sisterpractical] 133 is pathetic -

[1/15/2004 9:26:36 AM] [AlanD] IT, its a 4 "megabit" by 64 megabit SIMM

[1/15/2004 9:26:54 AM] [Investortrader] 133 is what my old machine uses lol

[1/15/2004 9:27:11 AM] [Lfeath] that is the memory bus speed not the processor

[1/15/2004 9:27:17 AM] [Steven57] my door stop has faster RAM

[1/15/2004 9:27:23 AM] [acmetrader] I'm still feeding the mice in the am

[1/15/2004 9:27:41 AM] [Investortrader] Thanks Alan, so I should get the 32x72 as it's "wider"?

[1/15/2004 9:28:05 AM] [AlanD] Sorry should have said DIMM and not SIMM since its 168 pin

[1/15/2004 9:28:14 AM] [america] gm everyone

[1/15/2004 9:28:16 AM] [Investortrader] Right, it's a DIMM

[1/15/2004 9:28:33 AM] [Lfeath] wow IT IBM already down .80 from the top

[1/15/2004 9:28:49 AM] [AlanD] 72 makes it an ECC module (error correcting)

[1/15/2004 9:29:16 AM] [Investortrader] Hmmm, I saw 72 on some SDRAM at eBay

[1/15/2004 9:29:47 AM] [AlanD] Don't know if one is faster than the other but I would prefer to have ECC myself if a choice between the two.

[1/15/2004 9:30:35 AM] [AlanD] In the past ECC use to be a little more expensive. Well opening time. Off to the races.

[1/15/2004 9:30:36 AM] [Longjohn] Don't mix ec and non-ec on the same machine

[1/15/2004 9:31:21 AM] [TCNut] try this site to learn about Mobos and RAM

[1/15/2004 10:59:58 AM] [hotto] ELAB 54.78 +3.73 .....)
[1/15/2004 11:00:03 AM] [StockStalker] thaz me biggest bet
[1/15/2004 11:00:08 AM] [powdershot] SOV already a target, NFB will follow imo
[1/15/2004 11:00:11 AM] [hotto] How's THat ?
[1/15/2004 11:02:01 AM] [hotto] watching.. to see how long it takes NGEN to reach s=12.01
[1/15/2004 11:02:09 AM] [powdershot] northeast regionals have very wealthy core depositors with great demographics, coveted by large banks...i.e retail banking is low risk and as such desired by money center banks and large foreign banks
[1/15/2004 11:02:31 AM] [Mapmanin] Other banks that could be targets: UPC, KEY, USB, STI, SOTR, NCC
[1/15/2004 11:02:41 AM] [hotto] ty powder ... on banks..
[1/15/2004 11:02:53 AM] [powdershot] yw of course

[1/15/2004 11:04:11 AM] [asthewayopens] SOV has been the subject of takeover rumors at diff. times over the years. They go to the dance but always come home alone. Different this time?
[1/15/2004 11:05:31 AM] [hotto] MNDO... would be nice to get another dip... for "C".. get some new energy
[1/15/2004 11:05:59 AM] [Mapmanin] SOV stopped making dumb acquisitions - valuation improved
[1/15/2004 11:06:39 AM] [powdershot] astheway- good point but SOV ceo has wisely held out for better offers, widely believed rumor is that sidhu, ceo, repelled royal bank of scotland at 24 and is looking for a 28-30 per share offer- in addition look at the stock chart in last year
[1/15/2004 11:07:17 AM] [Quintus] ISSC may be decent short here -- hourly leaves a lot to be desired
[1/15/2004 11:07:24 AM] [powdershot] imo sidhu won't give up control without a significant premium

[1/15/2004 11:13:15 AM] [powdershot] itsshowtime- u notify the broker which lot of shares u are selling specifically as opposed to fifo- the inverse in the case of shorts. of course the point is moot if you've only one lot of shares of a given security. notification is made at the time u sell shares
[1/15/2004 11:13:23 AM] [bmwrider] Long FRNT 11.35 earlier

[1/15/2004 11:17:29 AM] [rockin] SINA - I'm long on this weak rally up on looking to exit.

[1/15/2004 11:17:49 AM] [hotto] add-back means 1. I am keeping a base posn... 2. I have scalped -out some shares... at a target point..

[1/15/2004 11:17:57 AM] [Luigistock] yeah good idea that gap looks alful tempting

[1/15/2004 11:25:25 AM] [Brokenbob] re LR30: there is a bug on one of the TC betas concerning this. May be the prob.

[1/15/2004 5:01:39 PM] [hotto] NGEN... but try not to be upset.. when they find a very good time.. to offer new shares.. and it bothers our trade... It will be fine... assuming the system works..
[1/15/2004 5:02:25 PM] [hotto] we just have to put off our new car plans.. or whatever... a bit longer.
[1/15/2004 5:02:53 PM] [payck] I think we've all seen the pairing of good/bad news, it is the best way not to expose the stock to wild swings
[1/15/2004 5:03:02 PM] [hotto] VRTY is a G+ stock.. BAdked up by another in same group... RSAS was G+

[1/15/2004 5:06:15 PM] [starrbucks] My note to you at 4:44pm on this chat goes to the matter for your interpretation of the strength of the three indexes even though in relation to the activity and flow of the volume in the individual stocks
[1/15/2004 5:06:21 PM] [hotto] c you at 8pm ET
[1/15/2004 5:06:22 PM] [Stixman] Is there a list of your "invetory stocks" somewhere?

[1/15/2004 6:43:20 PM] [ron643] one way to play the earnings game is to buy cheap call and put, you are on each side up or dn. bot JNPR @ close call 22.5 =1.05 the put 22.5 was .40 total cost 145.00 should be worth 350.00 in am
