[4/21/2004 1:08:22 AM] <toptrader99> they get too emotional

[4/21/2004 1:08:31 AM] <toptrader99> and they are like people that go after cats

[4/21/2004 1:08:44 AM] <toptrader99> and get scratched, rather than let the cat jump on their laps

[4/21/2004 1:08:44 AM] <Luigistock> i hate cats

[4/21/2004 1:09:08 AM] <toptrader99> we all know what to do

[4/21/2004 1:09:11 AM] <toptrader99> winners do it

[4/21/2004 1:09:22 AM] <toptrader99> when you "are" acting like a winner, it flows

[4/21/2004 1:09:27 AM] <toptrader99> when we dont, we struggle

[4/21/2004 1:09:37 AM] <toptrader99> I struggled today, trying to find trades

[4/21/2004 1:09:46 AM] <toptrader99> so i dropped a G

[4/21/2004 1:09:50 AM] <toptrader99> served me right

[4/21/2004 1:09:58 AM] <Luigistock> you werent flexible

[4/21/2004 1:10:02 AM] <toptrader99> i was too antsy

[4/21/2004 1:10:20 AM] <croy> then Top we are on the same waveslenghts

precicely .. I never enter a trade without knowing my exits .. either profit or losses and I never give the stock a second chance ... it hit the stop .. I move on ... time is money and while one hangs on to a bad trade in hope ... hundred of other good trades could have been

[4/21/2004 1:10:40 AM] <toptrader99> seeign everything i had flagged last night running and me without a position, i thought my stocks were going to totally blast off, but got caught when they came back to earth

[4/21/2004 1:10:58 AM] <toptrader99> Croy, thats a rare skill

[4/21/2004 1:11:17 AM] <toptrader99> H&P.. hope and pray

[4/21/2004 1:11:18 AM] <Luigistock> you a a gem indeed Crotch

[4/21/2004 1:11:33 AM] <toptrader99> as soon as i realize i'm doing that, i hit close at the market and take a break

[4/21/2004 1:11:53 AM] <toptrader99> except with FCEL today

[4/21/2004 1:11:56 AM] <croy> Funny Top ... my intraday scanner didn't work today ... I got caught by surprise and I don't chase ... so I just did the dia ... best I could go for ...

[4/21/2004 1:12:14 AM] <toptrader99> what kind of scanner do you use ?

[4/21/2004 1:12:28 AM] <croy> And then I scalped a bit and decided to leave it at that ... thinking tonight we will evaluate the damages and then make new lists

[4/21/2004 1:12:37 AM] <croy> couples

[4/21/2004 1:13:06 AM] <toptrader99> do tell, I beta test stuff for traders, anything interesting ?

[4/21/2004 1:13:24 AM] <croy> I have StockWatch pro with my own blend of scans then I use TradeScan but that gives me more scalps I can handle .. really a daytarde

[4/21/2004 1:14:01 AM] <croy> Yes I saw it ... but things were moving so fast I didn't wanna just jump in and then find the magic SMA that would put me in trouble
[4/21/2004 1:14:25 AM] <Luigistock> 2 more to go

[4/21/2004 1:15:31 AM] <toptrader99> so many [4/21/2004 1:15:37 AM] <toptrader99> the toughest part..
[4/21/2004 1:15:43 AM] <toptrader99> is learning all the nuances
[4/21/2004 1:16:35 AM] <WCu888> Is TCNet one of the best tests? =D
[4/21/2004 1:16:41 AM] <bmweyrauch> sheeeesh..I leave for a bit and Luigi does a whole class ;)gonna review logs on signaltaps chart....
[4/21/2004 1:16:54 AM] <toptrader99> its good for now, still learning all that it can do
[4/21/2004 1:16:57 AM] <Luigistock> i didnt do diddly my man
[4/21/2004 1:16:58 AM] <toptrader99> the alerts suck
[4/21/2004 1:17:05 AM] <Lindahg> Luigi do you like these charts with from ST do they seem to work for you. I am just starting to look at them so don't know much about them but they look intersting.
[4/21/2004 1:17:15 AM] <toptrader99> i had alerts sent to my email, but the pop ups were non existent today
[4/21/2004 1:17:15 AM] <Luigistock> alerts ..we have alerts never heard one fire myslef
[4/21/2004 1:17:21 AM] <toptrader99> i missed a lot of quick pops
[4/21/2004 1:17:34 AM] <croy> My point loogy is that it is not a good idea to chase the panda .. she bit you on the ass before ..so take a break tomorrow it will bounce up a little giving a good safe entry and the wammo
[4/21/2004 1:17:56 AM] <WCu888> I rely on Yahoo for alerts...
[4/21/2004 1:18:00 AM] <Luigistock> well yeah , just saying its going to 32
[4/21/2004 1:18:07 AM] <toptrader99> they arent in real time are they ?
[4/21/2004 1:18:24 AM] <Luigistock> TS alerts kick
[4/21/2004 1:18:37 AM] <WCu888> nope, but more effective than TC.... IMO
[4/21/2004 1:18:48 AM] <Luigistock> pony express more effective
[4/21/2004 1:19:23 AM] <ChartMonkey> Hey Loog - do TS alerts pile up into a big gigantic mess that has to be clicked on one by one to get it out of your way if they go off while you're not at your screen?
[4/21/2004 1:19:39 AM] <toptrader99> i didnt see a damn one today
[4/21/2004 1:20:10 AM] <Luigistock> yeah but i have the alert box on my 4th monitor so doesnt bother me ..plus rarely away from screen when trades on [4/21/2004 1:20:42 AM] <ChartMonkey> you're talking tradestatoin alerts and not tc alerts on your 4th monitor?
[4/21/2004 1:20:50 AM] <Luigistock> yes
[4/21/2004 1:20:57 AM] <toptrader99> what about TC alerts
[4/21/2004 1:21:10 AM] <Luigistock> have never had one go off
[4/21/2004 1:21:22 AM] <ChartMonkey> so you can still interact w/the program before clearing all your triggered alert popups (unlike tcnet)?
[4/21/2004 1:21:28 AM] <Luigistock> yes
[4/21/2004 1:21:47 AM] <Luigistock> well if thats the case glad i never had one fre
[4/21/2004 1:21:51 AM] <Luigistock> fire
[4/21/2004 1:21:55 AM] <croy> LOL Loogy you need to set them for them to fire ...

[4/21/2004 1:22:13 AM] <ChartMonkey> top, no, TC alerts pile up and have to be clicked on individually before you regain control of the program and can do something useful like change tickers

[4/21/2004 1:22:19 AM] <Luigistock> i did for weeks when i first joined reall probably got about 2% to fire quit trying

[4/21/2004 1:22:34 AM] <toptrader99> well, i had alerts fire to my email and not my screen, was pissed

[4/21/2004 1:22:53 AM] <toptrader99> ok, almost 1:30am, time for bed, lata all

[4/21/2004 1:23:04 AM] <Luigistock> actually Top hav ebetter results with email alerts but what a pain

[4/21/2004 1:23:12 AM] <ChartMonkey> also tc alerts can only be individually controlled for popup/email. no global setting.

[4/21/2004 1:24:15 AM] <Luigistock> all those who think they suck say Aye

[4/21/2004 1:24:18 AM] <Luigistock> Aye

[4/21/2004 1:24:27 AM] <ChartMonkey> they = tc alerts?

[4/21/2004 1:24:32 AM] <Luigistock> yep

[4/21/2004 1:24:44 AM] <ChartMonkey> the interface design is absolutely horrible.

[4/21/2004 1:25:13 AM] <croy> Now ... guys .. I have a strange thing here one of the best soft for alerts is quote tracker stupid little program to manage the portfolio .. but it can do price or trendline breaks alerts ... amazing

[4/21/2004 1:25:37 AM] <ChartMonkey> that's medved? does that come w/spyware?

[4/21/2004 1:25:37 AM] <sunny> got that right, croy. quotetracker is the best

[4/21/2004 1:25:43 AM] <croy> Nope

[4/21/2004 1:26:02 AM] <croy> It's clean Yes there is an add window but nothing spyware about it

[4/21/2004 1:26:17 AM] <croy> or for 40$ or so you can have the no pub version

[4/21/2004 1:26:29 AM] <ChartMonkey> ah, see the website now "NO SPYWARE" ... i think i had that software many years ago and they did have spyware at the time

[4/21/2004 1:26:45 AM] <Luigistock> QT rocks only thing that made ameritrade bearable

[4/21/2004 1:26:46 AM] <croy> I used the out of the box and beleive me I checked the stuff out ... I used to do security

[4/21/2004 1:26:55 AM] <croy> puter that is

[4/21/2004 1:27:07 AM] <croy> so ... no spy anything on my tradeing station

[4/21/2004 1:27:25 AM] <croy> Actually can feed off any feed in RT

[4/21/2004 1:27:29 AM] <Luigistock> $40 a year

[4/21/2004 1:27:38 AM] <croy> or almost any ... I am Cyber and integrates quite well

[4/21/2004 1:28:04 AM] <Luigistock> not i

[4/21/2004 1:28:15 AM] <croy> As I flip throught charts I flag the trend line and it rings me before the btbo

[4/21/2004 1:28:57 AM] <croy> either we are just a bunch of guys looking for a bar and everything is closed so we hang around here ... LOL

[4/21/2004 1:29:24 AM] <croy> hummm snappy little thing

[4/21/2004 1:29:44 AM] <croy> for a stock below 2$ that is

[4/21/2004 1:29:47 AM] <ChartMonkey> QT looks a lot better than when i last saw it ... nice. hey anyone know if you can sort your alerts by age? that is an issue. old setups that wilt on the vine need to be purged.

[4/21/2004 1:30:10 AM] <ChartMonkey> chances are if they trigger 2 months from tuesday that price level you thought was significant isn't anymore.

[4/21/2004 1:30:23 AM] <croy> Hummm I reset almost every night based on my list .. then I intraday add according to my needs

[4/21/2004 1:30:26 AM] <Luigistock> yeah CM they continuesly update and debug have become relal yfirst rate

[4/21/2004 1:31:34 AM] <ChartMonkey> my alerts are usually good for a few days since i pick the levels off of that timeframe ... a "purge by x days old" feature would be great

[4/21/2004 1:31:57 AM] <Luigistock> CM talk to jerry may do it for ya

[4/21/2004 1:32:06 AM] <ChartMonkey> thanks, Loog.

[4/21/2004 1:32:06 AM] <croy> Yup Ok guys ... I am out of here ... had fun but gotta sleep ... shorting requires alertness

[4/21/2004 1:36:09 AM] <ChartMonkey> looks like it going back to sleep. or possibly worse.

[4/21/2004 12:18:56 PM] <Nexttrade> i with you dag
[4/21/2004 12:19:34 PM] <BossFan> so who's still in FVCX and why? I got myself way over extended on this one thinking all security stocks would rebound. Now I'm sitting on a huge loss that would kiss all of my April profits goodbye. I guess I'm still in hoping for a miracle, but Greenie is killing those. Probably best to move on, but REALLY hard to sell at this point. I'm sooo pissed at myself

[4/21/2004 12:21:19 PM] <Steven57> Averaging down is the 2nd best way
[4/21/2004 12:21:28 PM] <BossFan> I don't like the hope word, but that is the case here unfortunately. We need another lesson on stops, and when not to add to a losing position
[4/21/2004 12:21:35 PM] <JohnH> Boss used the "H" word!!! (I am also guilty) but not in FVCX
[4/21/2004 12:21:56 PM] <SusanM> Sigh. Boss, me too. Thought I learned this lesson in February, but am relearning on FVCX.

[4/21/2004 11:45:35 PM] <TCNut> well....250 a year....not much to grovel about [4/21/2004 11:46:05 PM] <TCNut> TCNet...only way to go is the 2 year plan
[4/21/2004 11:46:24 PM] <chart> hotto works charges seem reasonable - get back in 1 trade - i've not bit yet
[4/21/2004 11:47:54 PM] <AlanD> TCNet, you nailed it regarding the hand holding.
[4/21/2004 11:47:55 PM] <CashMan> WOOF nice btbo today off from a double bottom
[4/21/2004 11:49:35 PM] <TCNut> For me, it felt like an appreciation payment for all he taught me. If I could learn how to unemotionally contain unreasonable losses....I would kick down another [4/21/2004 11:50:17 PM] <AlanD> TCNut, how long have you been trading?
[4/21/2004 11:50:30 PM] <Steven57> Hey Alan
[4/21/2004 11:50:38 PM] <AlanD> Hello Steven.
[4/21/2004 11:50:44 PM] <CashMan> hotto does do a lot of hand holding but I don't think alot of people are not studing his logs which get them into trouble because they don't understand. They need to do alot of research and go back thru his teachings and learn.
[4/21/2004 11:50:59 PM] <TCNut> but, learn his methods....and make your own picks...or at least your own entry and exit decisions
[4/21/2004 11:51:33 PM] <CashMan> TCNut I agree totally [4/21/2004 11:51:42 PM] <TCNut> in june....I will have traded one year....Alan [4/21/2004 11:51:51 PM] <AlanD> I only ask TCNut because the longer you trade, the less emotional you get to your trades. This includes both wins and losses. I've had wins in the 10'sK that I got no more excited over than a $200 gain. It just takes time.
[4/21/2004 11:52:39 PM] <Odyssey> That's what is all about ... learn from the mentors but use it wisely based on your own requirements
[4/21/2004 11:52:50 PM] <AlanD> Main thing is don't let your losses drag you down. Letting losses get to you will make you start to do things you might regret later.
[4/21/2004 11:53:12 PM] <TCNut> with books n seminars for a few years....then paper trading for about 6 months....while learning hotto chart methods
[4/21/2004 11:53:17 PM] <CashMan> But hotto made me go into his logs etc to learn at the beginning and I don't see him doing that any more. this is just my perception
[4/21/2004 11:55:11 PM] <Odyssey> Hotto needs time to be Hotto ... those of us who were fortunate to join last year saw the actual evoluituion ... we cannot expect Hotto to keep everyone in line today
[4/21/2004 11:55:25 PM] <CashMan> Very true
[4/21/2004 11:56:59 PM] <TCNut> true....fer both o u... his teaching skills were what locked me in though!....hint hint....Hotto:8
[4/21/2004 11:57:25 PM] <AlanD> Hotto should be used as guidance but not to handhold. He is just one person who puts alot of time an energy with helping others to trade. Individuals who have been here long enough should have an idea of when to get into a trade and went not too. Frankly, after some time, if a trader still can't figure that out, perhaps they should turn their money over to a professional manager. I'm not referring to the fledgling traders but those who have been around awhile and still need to be lead through the trade.
[4/21/2004 11:57:56 PM] <Odyssey> Today's market is not last years ... even the newbies must understand the perceptions of reality today, .i.e interst rates going up poteentually vs. the downtrends over the past year or two or three [4/21/2004 11:58:38 PM] <CashMan> FORD EPS of 0.08 vs. 0.03 Quarterly Net Income Rises 156 %. Check out the news to get more. I expect it to rise more in the morning
[4/21/2004 11:59:34 PM] <TCNut> if he focusses more on teaching....nobody has any picks gone wone to whine about....could not believe the ruckus about that the
