[3/17/2004 8:07:20 AM] [MarcoPolo] MU.Mircron receiving positive comments today from couple of firms. Merrill Lynch saying they were expecting worldwide DRAM contract pricing to rise during March by an average of 5-10%, but after listening to Micron's comments at the Asia Pacific Technology conference, it appears that their forecast may have been a little conservative. They also note from Mircon's comments that if demand does return to its historic rate of growth the co believes that DRAM industry capital spending will have to return to the $14-15bn level, from $8-9bn currently. Merrill is reiterating their Buy on the stock with $18 tgt... JMP Securities also out saying they expect the co to report solid Q2 results with EPS of $0.04 on $1.15 bln revs (better than Street expectations of revenues and GAAP earnings of $1.0 billion and ($0.08) per share). They are reiterating their Outperform rating and $20 tgt... We're also hearing that stock is being upgraded at Susquehanna.

[3/17/2004 4:24:09 PM] [w2jc] there was an ivan volume spike from 1030 to 1130 on down price ... result of the sell report? ;)
[3/17/2004 4:24:11 PM] [hotto] SMA20 = 10475... Possibly...
[3/17/2004 4:24:17 PM] [dns1] yes, lol
[3/17/2004 4:24:31 PM] [hotto] We have that 10370 obstacle first..
[3/17/2004 4:25:01 PM] [kennethroyal] I dnloaded Hotto spread sheet and on 1/13/04, when NT closing Pr was $6.53, Hotto assigned S1/S2/S3/Tgts as 4.80/6.25/6.85/8.00+ respectively. I gather that that meant that on 1/13/04, Hotto felt that NT reasonably priced somewhere between $5.00 & $8.00. Is my interpretation correct?
[3/17/2004 4:26:44 PM] [w2jc] ken... in the second column is the date for which the s= data was last updated... not necessarily the date of the spreadsheet
[3/17/2004 4:27:07 PM] [kennethroyal] Tks wjc
[3/17/2004 4:27:15 PM] [w2jc] but otherwise your correct ... those were the values being anticipated on the date shown for that stock
[3/17/2004 4:28:05 PM] [w2jc] btw, as i noted on that Report today that spreadsheet has not been kept up to date since i havent seen many s= values being passed in the past couple of weeks
[3/17/2004 4:28:07 PM] [hotto] ken.. Those targets are simply based on Charts... and projections.. from normal momentum behavior of stocks..
[3/17/2004 4:28:21 PM] [BossFan] atexpal, bout IVAN yesterday at 2.08
[3/17/2004 4:28:26 PM] [BossFan] bought

[3/17/2004 4:49:17 PM] [rsi77] Fannye, where did you get that news at 2:10?

[3/17/2004 4:49:52 PM] [w2jc] from what i've seen on IPOs many brokers restrict the immediate resale of the ipo by making you ineligible for future ipos for some period of time ... but this may be just for 'retail customers' !!

[3/17/2004 4:50:08 PM] [hotto] that was not an IPO

[3/17/2004 4:50:10 PM] [Fannye] DJN thru Quotetracker. I have all my stocks set up for news alarm thru Quotetracker.
