[2/13/2004 12:41:24 PM] [hotto] So.. When I say "insurance puts" I mean it!.. I fully expected them to expire worthless

[2/13/2004 12:44:37 PM] [hotto] It does not always work...

[2/13/2004 12:45:09 PM] [Dreamengineer] What do you consider "significant" rally? A percentage move?

[2/13/2004 8:03:37 PM] [husker] .
[2/13/2004 8:46:42 PM] [bobpan] Rky..are you here/
[2/13/2004 8:48:15 PM] [RkyMtnFool] Yo
[2/13/2004 8:50:23 PM] [bobpan] question...when Hotto suggests using PCF's as sorts...does he mean the raw PCF or the Easyscan with that PCF?
[2/13/2004 8:52:07 PM] [RkyMtnFool] He's suggesting that you use a scan, such as Plan A2(15 day) and then sort it by another pcf - like PPCx or NR7.
[2/13/2004 8:52:19 PM] [honus99] bob, I think he uses the pcf with easyscan parameters
[2/13/2004 8:53:06 PM] [honus99] I like to use an easyscan as a sublist and then use a pcf to sort
[2/13/2004 8:53:54 PM] [RkyMtnFool] The scan will likely contain a pcf or two also - like Plan A2 - and volume & price filters.
[2/13/2004 8:54:54 PM] [RkyMtnFool] The sublist feature is another way to focus on the most interesting stocks. Worth exploring!
[2/13/2004 8:55:07 PM] [bobpan] I understand... just wanted to be sure of the distinction. thanks, guys.
[2/13/2004 8:55:19 PM] [RkyMtnFool] You bet!
[2/13/2004 9:00:55 PM] [honus99] Rky, good info, what ever it takes to find some gems. I like using sublist for price and volume filters, keeps PCF's simple the way i need them.
[2/13/2004 9:03:37 PM] [RkyMtnFool] Yep, I do the same thing. Defines a universe of issues that I would be interest in. And faster to set up each scan!
[2/13/2004 9:05:26 PM] [honus99] well time to go to dinner, have a great weekend, 3 days enjoy.
