[2/11/2004 4:23:42 PM] [ProfitTrader] Greenspan - I think everybody just heard what they wanted to hear. He was very careful and politically correct. On job loss, when Ms. Lee raised question about 'perceived' unemployment, he said he wish he could edit the text, and later when Ms. Lee objected it is not 'perceived' but 'real', he said he just edited the text and removed that word. Greenspan is good at keeping his job. He is cheif in republican, democratic, and republic adminstrations. Job losses were mentioned to be because of 'productivity increases'..fwiw
